HITLER TRIES TO RENEW BLITZ ON BIRTHDAY

Fuehrer Speeds Up Air Attack on Russian Front; Marks 53rd Anniversary.

By The Associated Press

Adolf Hitler, observing his 53d birthday at eastern front headquarters, was reported by the Russians today to be trying to put the old blitz back into the war with attacks by as many as 50 planes against single secret objectives.

The signs were that he had concentrated the bulk of his air power on that front, at the expense of his air strength in western Europe. Poor visibility over the continent last night, however, caused a pause in the British offensive in the west.

Small RAF fighter forces swept over northern France yesterday without opposition and the best the Germans could muster today against Britain was a three-plane strafing and bombing of a train and a south coast town. Three persons were killed and several injured.

German Bombers Active

German bombers ranged the vast Russian front, smashing at railway stations, airdromes and front line positions. They were impelled to this activity by improving weather, the hope of starting a general offensive sometime and perhaps also by the widening breach which the Russians were exploiting against the Finns above Leningrad.

On the southern front the German were making a show of action by tank-plane teams, the Russians said, but failed to restore positions pierced by the Red army.

The German high command said its bombers hit again at harbor installations and utilities on the Caucasian coast of the Black sea, with one big Russian tanker damaged. German fighters were credited with destruction of 22 planes without loss in the southern sector.

The Germans said that "local" Russian attacks collapsed in the central and northern sectors and that in Karelia Germans and Finns counted heavy Russian losses "in defensive battles."

At sea the Germans claimed secret destruction of 28 ships totaling 131,000 tons off the coast of the United States and in Caribbean.

Ships Sunk in Arctic

In the Arctic, Hitler headquarters said two "enemy ships" totaling 12,000 tons were sunk out of convoy by U-boat action in cooperation with the air force, and three others were damaged, apart from hits among the escorting warships.

In the Mediterranean, a German submarine was said to have torpedoed a merchantman at Beirut, Lebanese harbor, while another shelled the electrical works at Jaffa, Palestine.

The Italian high command reported loss of the 1036-ton submarine Michele Bianchi.

On the Libyan front there was only sporadic patrol fighting. The Khamseen, five-day-long sand-laden wind from the desert, hampered operations. There were the usual air attacks on Malta.

DRILL SET TUESDAY FOR MARION RIFLES

45 in 3-Hour March from Armory Sunday.

Members of Marion Rifles, the city's three volunteer military training corps, will meet Tuesday night at 7 at the armory for drill, George D. Hildebrandt, commander, announced today.

Following the drill there will be a social hour of games, entertainment and refreshments.

Yesterday 45 members went on a three-hour and 15-minute hike, in command of Lt. Dale Price. Commander Hildebrandt accompanied the group.

The men marched from the armory at 1:15, north to Center, east to Leader, north to Fairground, east to Main, north to the Harman-Ford road and east to a spot where Scioto Ordnance plant guards built a fire for the men to warm themselves. Returning home, they stopped at a restaurant north of Marion for sandwiches and coffee before returning to the Armory.

Forum Studies Ravenna's War Plant Problems as Guide Here

Group of Speakers Present Information and Advice To Community; Dr. Bell Reelected Forum Head.

Information and advice to guide Marion in preparing to handle problems that will grow out of the establishment of the Scioto Ordnance Plant were offered on a score of different subjects at a Marion County Community Forum program yesterday afternoon in Thomas A. Edison Jr. High school auditorium.

More than 400 persons heard a group of talks by men who either have had experience with ordnance plant community problems elsewhere or who had information bearing on one or more of the problems to be encountered. A lively question and answer program kept the speakers busy until the full two-hour program period had been used up.

Yesterday's meeting closed the forum and was marked by the election by acclamation of the following officers for next year: Dr. Harry L. Bell, reelected president; City Schools Supt. E. E. Holt, vice president; Mrs. H. S. Rhu, secretary; R. N. Heininger, treasurer.

Highlights Listed

Some of the highlights of the information and suggestions presented follow:

Ravenna's method of setting up a community organization to handle all phases of ordnance plant problems was described. At one time this organization, in a community of 8,000, had a staff of 25 workers in an uptown headquarters.

One of the big obstacles in Ravenna was a public attitude of resentment toward the mass arrival of newcomers. The community made progress in solving its problems only after this early resentment was overcome.

Despite its small size, Ravenna found sleeping rooms and small apartments for new persons.

Federal help is available in solving some of the recreational, health and welfare problems if they get beyond the means of the local community; local resources must be used first in most instances before these can be obtained.

The federal government provided $100,000 toward a project to double the size of the Ravenna hospital. In some cases it also helps provide either temporary or permanent facilities to house increased school populations.

Churches, by making full use of their basement recreation rooms or space available for such rooms can do much in meeting the expanded recreational problem; and a study of such a program here is already under way.

Ravenna maintained "home town rule" on all activities, even those in which the federal government helped, and recommended Marion do the same.

Ravenna liquor dealers voluntarily signed a code to help prevent disorders — barkeepers call the sheriff when a customer becomes disorderly; 11 o'clock closing of liquor dispensaries was ordered at the request of the liquor dealers.

Day nurseries for care of children while their mothers work in defense plants, replacing men called into military service, probably will be established here later.

Ravenna is planning to receive part of an expected mass migration of workers from Kentucky and other states where there are few defense plants.

Local labor will be used insofar as possible, both in the construction and operation of the plant.

The workers will promote many of their own recreational activities although a broad program of recreation should be provided by the community.

Captain's Message Read

The forum was presided over by Dr. H. W. Nisonger of the department of adult education at Ohio State university. He first called on D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, who read a message from Capt. Robert

SHOWDOWN DUE ON G. O. P. WAR STAND

Resolutions To Hit "Doctrine of Isolationism."

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 20—The stage was set today for a showdown of the Republican party's stand on war as members of the national committee convened to map the G.O.P. fall campaigns.

Party leaders disclosed they were ready to present resolutions relating to the war stand and there was a strong possibility of a protracted discussion before final committee approval.

Wendell Willkie, the G.O.P. 1940 presidential candidate, had prepared for the committee a resolution repudiating "the doctrines of isolationism" and urging that the party undertake "just and reasonable international responsibilities."

Also ready for the committee's consideration were resolutions by Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio and C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois, which drew criticism from Sinclair Weeks, national committeeman from Massachusetts and the party's treasurer.

Thus the committee was to act on proposals by one group which had favored aid to nations fighting the axis and by another faction, which, before Pearl Harbor, was for isolation.

Chairman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., said that all resolutions would be offered to a resolutions committee before being submitted to the national committee. Weeks said supporters of the Willkie measure would fight such action.

"This is a chance above all others for the Republican party to take a clear-cut positive position on the great issues which face this country," Weeks said in a statement. "I have seen the Brooks and Taft resolutions and I do not consider them in any degree adequate from this standpoint. I am also informed that Senator Taft said he did not propose to go further in his declaration than to declare for a vigorous prosecution of the war.

"This attitude does not suffice to cover the proper presentation of the issues which confront us.

"Isolationism, of course, is dead, but here is a vital opportunity for the Republican party not only to declare that isolationism is dead today but that it is dead for all time . . . ."

Marion Player Hurt in Football Practice

Irvin Blackford, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Blackford of 452 Windsor street, is in City hospital for treatment of an ankle injury suffered Friday in the Harding High school spring football practice at the Harding stadium.

Blackford, a sophomore, suffered a dislocated ankle and was taken to the hospital Saturday. An anesthetic was administered while the dislocated bones were being replaced, according to Coach Bill Williams. The hospital reported his general condition to be good this morning.

ALLIED AIRMEN BLAST 40 JAP PLANES IN RAID

Australian Based Craft Make Highly Successful Attack on New Britain.

BY C. YATES MACDANIEL
AP War Correspondent

U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, April 20 — Allied airmen, racing through tropical rainstorms in one of their attacks, were reported today to have destroyed 40 Japanese bombing and fighting planes on the ground in two raids on Rabaul.

While these continuing attacks indicated American and Australian determination to press the Japanese in their outer rim bases and perhaps force them to relax their grip, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's new high command in the southwest Pacific began a swift mapping of plans to carry out instructions to prepare an offensive.

Prime Minister John Curtin met with MacArthur and other allied service chiefs in a conference on a "highly confidential" subject.

Attack Covers Two Days

The attacks on Rabaul in New Britain were made Saturday and Sunday. Thousands of pounds of high explosive were said to have been dropped on Lakunai airdrome Saturday, wrecking runways, blasting to pieces at least four navy Zero fighters with direct hits and wrecking many others with flying steel.

Moored flying boats were set on fire by another wave of raiders, while in a heavy attack Sunday at least one Japanese ship in Rabaul harbor was reported damaged by bomb blasts.

The pilots at Lakunai swooped out of low clouds, fought their way through heavy antiaircraft barrage and turned loose their bombs and machineguns. The operation was described as highly successful.

Attending the conference between MacArthur and Curtin were Gen. Sir Thomas H. Blamey, Australia, commander of allied land forces, and Maj. Gen. Richard Sutherland, American, who is expected to be MacArthur's chief of staff.

Curtin, who said his government had joined with the United States, Great Britain, New Zealand and the Netherlands in granting MacArthur a charter as supreme commander in this vital war theater, attended the conference in his new role as defense minister.

Informed quarters said the defense portfolio had been created by the Australian war cabinet to eliminate red tape.

Prepares for Offensive

Curtin disclosed MacArthur had been instructed specifically to prepare to assume the offensive. (The London radio last night quoted the Australian broadcasting commission's correspondent with the allied forces as saying "it is believed in Australia that the allied air offensive may soon force the enemy to abandon his air bases at Lae and Salamaua in New Guinea.")

Announcement of the agreement formalizing MacArthur's appointment as commander in chief in the Southwest Pacific, effective as of Saturday midnight, was issued from his headquarters yesterday.

It said that, subject to his supreme authority, Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, of the Australian army had been named commander of all allied land forces, while Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett and Vice Admiral Herbert F. Leary—both Americans—had been designated to command the allied air and naval forces respectively.

Maj. Gen. Julian F. Barnes, U. S. A., will command all United States army forces in Australia. Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, commander of U. S. forces in the Philippines, also will receive his orders from MacArthur.

MacArthur was expected to complete his organization today by naming his headquarters staff.

One of Dionne Quints Undergoes Operation

By The Associated Press

NORTH BAY, Ont., April 20—A minor ear operation was performed last night on Yvonne Dionne, usually the most robust of the quintuplets, and she was reported resting "fairly well" today in a North Bay hospital.

The operation was performed by Dr. G. F. Guest, North Bay specialist, and Dr. J. Joyal, the quintuplets' North Bay physician.

The trip to the hospital was the first time Yvonne has left her home in nearby Callander without her sisters. It was not known how long she would remain in the hospital.

SURVEYORS TO USE ABANDONED CHAPEL

Engineers for War Plant Also To Use Clark School.

Likens Chapel, abandoned for church purposes to make way for Scioto Ordnance Plant construction progress, is scheduled to become headquarters for a group of surveying parties some time this week.

Plans for use of the church building and later of the Clark school have been made necessary by the continued expansion of the firm of Holabird & Root, architect-engineer for the plant construction project.

Last week's activities brought in 27 more of the firm's employes, boosting its total to 183. The firm had only one person here on March 11, increased to 20 in the following week, and jumped in successive weeks to 70, 107, and 156 prior to last week's additions. More men are scheduled to arrive and the total may pass 250.

Tentative plans call for use of the Likens Chapel building for surveying forces. The Clark school

BOMBS RAINED ON CORREGIDOR

Japs Send Dive Bombers To Knock Out U. S. Forts; Burma Fighting Heavy.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—Opening of an intense Japanese effort to batter the Philippin island fortress of Corregidor into helplessness by bombs and siege guns was reported today by the war department.

From new positions on the Bataan peninsula and from the south shore of Manila by the foe began an intensive artillery bombardment yesterday and for the first time dive bombing raids were made on Corregidor.

Defending gunners replied effectively to the new attack, silencing at least three batteries, a communique reported, and breaking up three motor truck and troop concentrations on Bataan.

Five Diving Raids

Five dive bombing raids were made on Corregidor and in addition Japanese light bombers attacked Corregidor and Fort Hughes several times from high altitudes.

One bomber was hit by antiaircraft fire, the war department reported.

Meanwhile near Zamboanga, on the island of Mindanao more than 500 miles to the south, an American-Filipino patrol ambushed two bus loads of Japanese troops and inflicted numerous casualties.

The three enemy batteries silenced by the fort's guns were in addition, officials said, to at least four and possibly five which it was announced yesterday had been put out of action in the past few days.

Bombing attacks on the besieged island forts have been confined thus far to high level bombing, officials noted.

The dive bombers operated on the Bataan peninsula before defense there were overcome, they were particularly deadly after anti-aircraft defenses had been reduced.

Jap Outposts Raided

The war department's communique late yesterday said also that small American and Filipino mobile forces in northern Luzon raided enemy outposts, destroyed supplies and inflicted heavy casualties.

Corregidor's island batteries were reported to have silenced four or five enemy guns in the last days, while anti-aircraft fire kept bombers at high altitudes.

Heavy fighting continued on the Burma approach to India, with the British, now helped on the right wing by Chinese reinforcements, reported holding their ground at Taungdwingyi.

No one could say whether invasion of India or Australia, or possibly both at once, was next on Japan's timetable. There was the chance the Japanese might thrust at the Australian mainland for a landing before the MacArthur counteroffensive could be mounted.

With that in mind, the MacArthur command sent its warplanes yesterday against Rabaul, New Britain, keystone of the flying buttress of Japanese conquest in the islands facing Australia.

Sale of war bonds and stamps in Marion county last week amounted to $32,051.25, the treasury department announced today. Of this amount, $20,770 were E bonds and $11,281.25 in stamps. Sales for the preceding week amounted to $18,847.70.

AXIS SUB SHELLS CURACAO ISLAND

Refinery Is Target but Shore Batteries Drive Craft Away.

By The Associated Press

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, April 20—An enemy submarine, attacking under cover of darkness early Sunday, shelled oil installations of the Royal Dutch Petroleum Co. at Bullen Bay on the Dutch Caribbean island of Curacao but did no damage, it was announced.

The submarine's shellfire was countered by a coastal battery. The shore fire caused the craft to dive.

Following is the official announcement:

"This night, at 3 a. m., oil installations of the Royal Dutch Petroleum Co. at Bullen Bay on the island of Curacao were shelled by an enemy submarine. All the projectiles missed.

"The enemy fire was promptly answered by the fire of our coastal battery. The enemy stopped firing, dived and did not make any further appearance."

This was the second attack on oil installations in this Netherlands West Indies territory. On Feb. 16 a submarine shelled property of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey on the island of Aruba, the war's first attack on a land target in the western hemisphere.

DRAFT CHARGE FACED BY MARION CO. MAN

Arrested by FBI and Deputy Sheriff; Pleads Not Guilty.

Kenneth Mohler, 22, of near Marion was arrested in downtown Marion Saturday night by an FBI agent and deputy sheriff and taken to federal court on a charge of failing to report for induction to the United States army.

His arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Ross McGinnis and a Toledo FBI agent. At Toledo federal court, The Associated Press reported Mohler pleaded not guilty when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Morton Meipp this morning and was bound over to the federal grand jury under $5,000 bond.

The arrest followed complaint of local draft board 3 (Rural) officials that Mohler failed to report for induction March 30. His whereabouts had been unknown to the board since that time.

Deputy Sheriff McGinnis said the FBI agent arrived in Marion late Saturday afternoon to investigate the case. He reported that they made a check-up on Mohler's record and made the arrest about 7 o'clock.

Mohler, who said he is a minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, was selling that group's paper on the street when the arrest was made, Deputy Sheriff McGinnis said.

Draft board officials said Mohler had previously objected to

LAVAL CALLS WAR "CRIME"

Declares Rapprochement Between France and Nazis Necessary for Peace.

VICHY, UNOCCUPIED FRANCE, April 20—Pro-axis Pierre Laval in a broadcast to the French people today called France's declaration of war on Germany a "crime" and said that "rapprochement between France and Germany is the condition for peace in Europe."

Laval insisted he had "no responsibility whatever in the misfortune which has befallen us" and appealed to the farmers of France to "till their soil with the same passion as you would use to defend it."

He promised to "do everything to try to bring about the salvation of the country."

The first broadcast by the new chief of government came after the first formal cabinet meeting at which Marshal Petain presided.

The speech was made against a background of unrest, emphasized by the German announcement that 30 hostages had been condemned to death at Rouen in connection with a railway wreck in which many German soldiers were killed.

"When I spoke in the name of victorious France (as premier before the war) I never thought to humiliate Germany," Laval said, "and I must pay this tribute to our conquerors that they have never tried to humiliate France.

"I do not speak to Germany in the language of the vanquished."

Laval asked:

"Do you accept that with British help you will be submitted to a system which will bring you into misery, or do you want to be integrated into new Europe where our honor and vital interests would be respected?"

Warns Situation Grave

"I warn you," he said, "against all rumors that this policy is only possible at untold sacrifices and untold humiliations.

"I can only tell you that the situation is grave."

Laval promised the peasants he would do everything to reduce to a minimum the restrictive measures operating against them.

"Every time we can do it without risk to the country we shall

FORCES BASED IN AUSTRALIA PLAN ACTION

New Threats Come As Tokyo Remains Jittery Over U. S. Bombings.

By The Associated Press

With the Japanese still trying to figure out how they were bombed in their own islands Saturday, the United Nations drew up plans today for an Australia-based counter-offensive in the Southwest Pacific and the struggle in Burma took a favorable but still indecisive turn against the enemy.

Chungking reported that Chinese troops swooping down from the northeast had recaptured Yenangyaung, Burma oil center, and in two days of bitter fighting had released a British force of several thousand from Japanese encirclement.

General Douglas MacArthur and aids discussed offensive plans today with Australia's Prime Minister, John Curtin, at Canberra. It was the first of a series of facilitating conferences between him, as confirmed commander for the United Nations in the Southwest Pacific, and Curtin, in his concurrent capacity as defense minister.

Japan Jittery

Japan showed signs of jitters over the raids. Two more alarms sounded yesterday, evidently with no real basis, and Domei, Japanese news agency, said the government was trying to control "baseless rumors" concerning the Saturday smashes.

The air raids which bore home total war to Japan for the first time dealt her a jolting blow both materially and spiritually, it became increasingly evident today despite her efforts to belittle them.

As effective, perhaps, in jangling the enemy's nerves as the unforseen, startling bombardment itself, was the mystery of how the bombers got there.

What Japan would most like to learn, no doubt, is that the attacking planes are back aboard aircraft carriers hurrying at top speed out of flying range.

The Japanese radio, perhaps wishfully, has suggested that the air raiders were sea-based but the only indications so far have been contrary to such a thesis.

"Martin bombers" were said by the Japanese to have swept 1,000 miles of their shores. Presumably, what were meant were the United States army's B-26 medium bombers — army rather than navy planes and too large to be launched from carriers.

Furthermore, a Reuters news agency report from Chungking today said the planes had reached

DISCUSS FUND PLAN AT NAVY CLUB MEET

Marion Woman Reelected To State Office.

The "Life Saver Fund" of the Marion Navy club, raised to provide money for mothers to go to sons in the navy and marines who may be hospitalized on one of the coasts, may be started by other Navy clubs in Ohio, it was indicated at a meeting of the Ohio State Squadron here yesterday.

The meeting was held to elect state officers for 1942-43.

Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds of Marion was elected paymaster for the third consecutive year.

Glenn Skogman of Cleveland was elected commandant. Others elected are: William B. Dunley of Youngtown, senior executive officer; Otto A. Boehler of Springfield, junior executive officer; Gustav Stockington of Cleveland, shipwriter; R. V. Farver of Akron, historian; William Cook of Lima, medical officer and Stephen Kainal of Middletown, master at arms. Arthur Watt of Marion, paymaster of the national organization, installed the officers.

The "Life Saver Fund" was explained to the group and several of the representatives indicated they would start similar drives in their home cities.

The meeting yesterday was one of several held periodically throughout the year to discuss plans of community benefit and promotion of projects for the benefit of the navy personnel. The next meeting will be held in three months at Youngtown.

MUSTER DAY MARKED BY SPANISH VETS

War Reminiscenses Feature of Annual Event.

The grim days of the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection were recalled Friday night when veterans of Marion Camp No 32, United Spanish War Veterans, met for their annual observance of Muster day. T. E. Kinnear presided and James E. Messenger was master of ceremonies. The program was preceded by a covered dish dinner served by Betsy Ross auxiliary No. 14. Members of the auxiliary held their meeting in the afternoon.

Sylvester Larkin, local attorney and a member of the camp, was the speaker. Facing the American Flag the veterans repeated the oath of allegiance they took 44 years ago when they volunteered for war service. The Muster day program was started a number of years ago and is designed to commemorate the declaration of war that was made by congress against Spain on April 21, 1898.

In addition to the talk by Mr Larkin there were talks by a number of the veterans.

Plans were made for a card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Miller of Park street next Friday evening at a meeting of the auxiliary. For the program hour Mrs Ida Loughere, junior ex read the declaration of war in Spain in 1898. One application was balloted on. In a contest the award was won by Mrs P. M. Miller.

Mrs Eddie Mack, social chairman, was in charge of the dinner. She was assisted by a group of the members.

Inspection Held At Meeting of Masons

Work in the master Mason degree was conferred upon the annual inspection of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., was held Friday night. Chas. Jenner of Springfield district deputy grand master of the 15th Masonic district which includes Marion, was the inspecting officer.

Approximately 100 members and guests attended the meeting which was preceded by a dinner. Guests were present from Upper Sandusky, Columbus, Richwood, Prospect, Caledonia and Westerville.

New Neighbors.

"WELL, fancy seeing you here!" Stephanie laughed as Henri strode nearer. "What in the world are you doing down here?"

Henri swept off his hat, smiled as he explained, "Oh, just killing off a little time, as you say. Waiting for some friends who have promised to take me on a little yachting trip up the bay."

Stephanie glanced over his shoulder to the smelly little fishing boat. "Not in that?"

"Oh, no." Henri laughed too. "I was just curious to see what a fishing boat looks like. I was about to ask that worthy seaman if I might have a look around his craft."

"Well, you've more curiosity than sense of smell, I see," and then she suddenly became aware that her father stood in stony silence. "Daddy, you remember Henri de la Pagerie, don't you?"

Guy Merrill bowed stiffly. "I remember Mr. Pagerie very well."

But no greeting. He didn't even offer to shake hands. Embarrassed, Stephanie flushed, murmured,

"Nice to have seen you, Henri. We must run along. Daddy's had an accident to his arm."

"So I noticed. I am very sorry, sir. Nothing serious I hope."

Still her father only shook his head coldly.

"No—it was just a burn. You see there was an explosion at—"

"Come along Stephanie," her father interrupted curtly. "Good afternoon, sir."

And then before she could say more, he hurried her along the dock and away from Henri. "Goodbye," she called trying to cover her confusion with a little laugh. "See you later."

Henri smiled, nodded.

"I hope you won't," Guy Merrill said gruffly.

"Hope I won't what?"

"See that bounder again. I don't like him."

"So I noticed," she said curtly. "I don't know why you choose to be rude to him, Daddy."

He climbed into the car after her slammed the door viciously. "I don't know either. Don't like his looks. Too smooth. Besides, I'm sure I've seen him somewhere before and the associated impression isn't good."

"You couldn't have met him, Daddy. You're mistaken and probably prejudiced because he has that foreign air."

The "Accident."

"You're damned right I'm prejudiced." Guy braced himself cautiously as Stephanie turned the car off the Embarcadero and up a steep hill. "If you like him, that's your business. But you needn't expect me to be pals with a bird like that."

Stephanie laughed. "Daddy, you're being an old woman. Just because Henri's different from the boys I've known and—"

"Different is putting it mildly." Then he eyed her quizzically. "How come you're putting up such a fight for this foreigner?"

Stephanie hesitated. Why was she? "Well—he's a good friend of Vicky's. Aunt Allison likes him—"

"She would! Al always did fall for that kind of stuff," her brother muttered.

"And—he's been very nice to me."

"All right, but nice or not, I want you to be careful what information you hand him. He may be harmless as a gadfly, but he's not to know what goes on up at Titan. Understand?"

"Yes, Daddy. I'm sorry. I just forgot for the moment that—"

"Well, after this you remember it every moment," her father said sternly. "The 'accident' up there today was only an accident insofar as I happened to stumble onto it in time?"

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that someone doesn't know the exact layout of the plant by accident. I mean that someone doesn't plant oil-soaked rags at vital centers by accident. If I hadn't happened to go back to the office to finish up some work this morning instead of taking the Sunday off to go fishing as I usually do, that fire would have gotten a beautiful start before anyone discovered it. And the resultant explosion would have wiped Titan completely off the map."

"But—now they'll be back to try again, won't they, Daddy?"

"Certainly." Guy winced as Stephanie turned the car sharply into their drive, stopped under the porte cochere. "But next time they'll be dealing with the F.B.I."

"Oh, I'm so glad you finally reported it. I wish you had long ago."

"So do I." Turning, he looked out across the harbor. "Beautiful spot, this. Always glad to get back to it."

Stephanie nodded, sharing his feeling. Then as she started up the steps, the sound of a lawn mower on the other side of the hedge brought her up short.

"Seems as if we have neighbors again," her father observed, answering her own thought.

Then she noticed that the rambling old mansion next door, deserted since the crash of '29 had ruined old Mr. Stone, had curtains at its wide windows again. And, as a dust cloth fluttered from an upstairs window, a little Japanese maid to fight the cobwebs. Two Japanese maids, she added a moment later as a second little brown face peeped from a window.

"Glad they are doing something about that garden," Guy Merrill approved as he stamped up the steps. "I'll take a couple of good Jap gardeners to turn that wilderness into anything like what it was in Stone's day."

Too Many Gardeners.

Stephanie saw the gardeners then. Pruning the flowering almond trees ruthlessly. Strange gardeners, those!

Old Tsang, anxious when he saw his beloved Master Guy was injured, shook his head dolorously.

"Devil pretty busy today," he muttered.

Guy laughed around a grimace as Tsang helped him out of his coat. "The Devil certainly had something to do with my getting this infernal burn. You're right about that, Tsang. What's he been doing for you, today?"

Old Tsang didn't smile. "Devil give me Japanese gardeners right under my kitchen window. Big house next door now full of Japanese. That bad sign for good Chinaman."

Stephanie laughed. "Oh, Tsang. You and your signs. The gardeners won't bother you. And surely the new tenants aren't Japanese too?"

"No. White. But not much good. They make talk sounds like many pigs. Not good."

"Poor Tsang." Guy grinned, stretched out on the old sofa in the library. "Got your troubles, haven't you?"

But the old Chinaman would not be cheered. "Much trouble. My son's girl-child bring disgrace now."

"Not pretty little Frosted Willows?" Stephanie asked, remembering the little Chinese girl who had come sometimes to visit her grandfather.

Tsang nodded. "My son send her to the big school. That bad."

"The University? But why? She's a smart girl."

"Not smart. She make friends with Japanese boy." Old Tsang shook his head, scowling. "That very bad."

"But after all, if he's a nice Japanese boy," Stephanie suggested.

Tsang drew himself up proudly. "Wong Liu Tsong my grandaughter. She Chinese girl."

Guy sighed wearily, propped his injured arm against a cushion. "Poor old Tsang. The Devil has been at work today, all right."

Stephanie smiled too but somewhere in her mind that thought caught on a snag.

From where I sit...
by Joe Marsh

Every Friday night a bunch of us fellows get together over at Bill Webster's place. We wouldn't miss those weekly get-togethers for anything.

There are seven in the group—Bill Webster, Judge Cunningham, Pete Swanson, Old Doc McGinnis the dentist, and young Doc Mitchell the M.D., the government man Bob Newcomb, and myself.

We don't play cards. We don't sing or carry on.

We just sit quietly and talk—and drink a glass or two of beer.

I guess we discuss just about everything under the sun—politics, business, family affairs, music, farming, hunting, fishing, and what not.

But mostly we like to chew the fat about life's experience and a man's philosophy in these times.

To sort of help out the conversation, we've found mellow beer particularly relaxing. Every one of us likes the tangy taste of beer... and now and then Judge Cunningham insists on ale for everybody.

You mightn't think that just settin' and talkin' would be much fun. But it is. Particularly when a man begins to get around to the age of reason. Like us.

And it's wonderful how a few glasses of good beer help bring out good talk and good sense when men get together. There's something peaceful and friendly about human about beer that brings out the best in a man.

They call beer the "beverage of moderation." That "moderation" idea is good philosophy... maybe that's why good beer and good fellowship go together so well.

Seems to me there ought to be more of this quiet talk over a glass of beer. It sure straightens out a man in his thinking.

Anyhow, men ought to get together and be friends. That's the way we were made. Why not try it more often—all of you?

I am glad to write you telling you that I am more than pleased with my Triple-life furnace that was installed last summer. I used about 2 tons less fuel than the year before and kept the house at a more even temperature due to the draft regulator. I only had to fire the furnace twice a day except in extreme weather. I gladly recommend the Triple-life furnace to anyone as an efficient heating unit."

"The violations * * * resulted in diversion by the two firms to their private customers of large quantities of critically needed iron and steel at the expense of the needs of the armed forces and the maritime commission," WPB charges.

H. E. Lewis, president of Jones and Laughlin, said at Pittsburgh he was surprised at the board's statement. Most of the firm's shipments in March and April, he said, represented "the requirements of the army, navy, maritime commission and lease-lend customers."

"Nothing is being left undone by our employes and management," he added, "to do our utmost in the present crisis and we are and have been breaking records repeatedly in our all-out war effort."

J. L. Perry, president of Carnegie-Illinois, categorically denied the charges, saying his company is "complying fully with priority regulations," and had received favorable comments from the board itself.

CHOICE PORK CUTS SLIP FROM FAVOR

War Causes Widespread Shift To Other Meats.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 20 — Pork chops, little pig sausages, ham and other choice meat cuts from the hog are fast losing their top spot on the nation's dining tables.

The reason is the war and a widespread shift of American consumers from pork to other meats is expected in the livestock trade. Livestock experts said the change already was apparent and what amounts to some form of rationing of both pork and lard was expected.

With allies abroad calling for more and more pork, there will be less available for domestic consumption despite the fact that production of hogs and processing of pork is being stepped up to all-time record proportions.

Government lend lease buyers plan to take 40 per cent of all the pork and two-thirds of all the lard produced in plants under federal inspection this year. Provisions trade experts estimate packers may produce approximately 3,300,000,000 pounds of pork and 775,000,000 pounds of lard in the six-month period ending September 30. Federal inspected production accounts for the bulk of the nation's output.

If present plans are followed, lend-lease pork purchases for the six months would total 1,400,000,000 pounds, leaving 2,100,000,000 for domestic consumption plus about 300,000,000 held in storage on April 1. Domestic consumption during the corresponding six months of 1941 absorbed 2,900,000,000 pounds. Lend lease buyers would take about 515,000,000 pounds of lard during the six-month period, leaving 260,000,000 for domestic consumption plus 185,000,000 in storage April 1 compared with consumption of about 480,000,000 pounds a year ago.

Metal chairs up to 72 in height can be opened with a crank operated device resembling a wall type can opener that a Cuban chair man has invented.

Approximately 500,000 pounds of cable used chiefly in the manufacture of shearing guns were produced in the Mexican state of Yucatan last year.

Social Affairs

THE First Presbyterian church was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Miss Jane Stephenson, daughter of Dr and Mrs O. G. Stephenson of 488 South Vine street, and Walter H. Rudin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rudin of Mt Vernon.

The custom of open church was observed for the service read at 8.30 o'clock by Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor, assisted by Rev J. D. McCormick of Mt. Vernon. Myriads of tapers in tall branched candelabra lighted the altar, which was banked with huckleberry foliage and greenery, and tall white baskets filled with white gladioli.

As the guests were being seated Mrs Harry T Williams played a program of organ music. During the ceremony she played "Estrellita," Ponce, and "One Alone," Romberg, and for the processional and recessional the traditional wedding marches. Before the service she played the theme from Tschaikowsky's "Concerto in B Flat Minor," "Liebestraum," Liszt, "My Bela Girl' Edvar, "The Bela Stars," Rogers, and "I Love You Truly," Bond.

A gown of white bridal satin was chosen by Miss Stephenson for her marriage. The softly shirred bodice had a sweetheart neckline and bracelet length sleeves and was trimmed with self-covered buttons in the back. The full skirt swept into a wide train. Her full length veil was held with a tiara of orange blossoms and he wore the bridegroom's gift a strand of matched baby pearls. White sweet peas and white roses fashioned her bridal bouquet which was caught with short streamers of white satin robbons.

Preceding the bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, were four attendants. Mrs J W Rudin Jr of Mt Vernon, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. Miss Kathryn Huntington of Columbus was maid of honor and Mrs Harry Larzar and Miss Eleanor Cheney were bridesmaids.

All four were identical gowns of taffeta in a delicate lime shade, fashioned with basque waists and full, tufted skirts. In their hair they wore bows of purple grosgrain ribbon with long streamers, which matched the color of their slippers and the bride's gifts of jeweled bracelets. All carried round bouquets. Mrs. Rudin's bouquet was of sweet peas in shades of orchid and purple and held Talisman roses, and the maid of honor carried a matching bouquet except that it held yellow roses. The bridesmaid's bouquets were orchid and purple sweet peas.

Mrs Stephenson selected for her daughter's wedding a costume in gray. The chiffon skirt was topped with a matching lace bodice and her flowers were a corsage of pink camellias. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown in a powder blue shade with an orchid corsage.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, J. W. Rudin Jr. of Mt. Vernon and ushers were the bride's brother, Jack Stephenson of the Great Lakes Naval Training school, Great Lakes, Ill., William Westwater, Dr. Joseph Shepard and Edward Watson of Columbus, James Beam and Rex Lamb Jr. of Mt Vernon, Freeman Gehres of Washington, D. C. and Harry Lazear of Marion. The bridegroom's gifts to the best man and ushers were leather jewel cases in saddle tan. The bride gave the bridegroom a jewelry set in a monogrammed case.

In the church parlors where the bride and bridegroom received about 400 guests informally following the ceremony the decorations were white gladioli and stocks and greenery. Later Dr. and Mrs. Stephenson were hosts at a reception at their home for 150 relatives and out-of-town guests. Here all white decorations were carried out with spring flowers and a wedding cake. Assisting were Mrs Don A Howard, Mrs. Homer R. Waddell, Mrs. C. O Brown, Mrs Edwin C Dee, Mrs Frank M. Knapp, Mrs George T. Geran, Mrs. Fred Berg and Miss Jean Knapp.

When the couple departed later in the evening for a short wedding trip the bride was wearing a suit in a dawn blue shade and her hat, shoes and purse were in lady bug red. Pinned to her coat was a corsage of opened white roses.

The former Miss Stephenson attended Ohio university and is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Rudin was graduated from Ohio State university, where he affiliated with Beta Theta Pi fraternity, and is vice president of the Rudin Co., which operates a department store in Mt Vernon. He expects to enter military service in the near future.

A GROUP of friends of Dr. and Mrs. Richard L. Morgan most of them members of their wedding party, gave them a surprise housewarming and shower of household articles Saturday evening in their home at 470 South State street. Before their marriage the first of this month Mrs Morgan was Miss Lois Peterson.

Later in the evening the group went to the home of Mr and Mrs A. E. Morrison of East Center street for a social time and Dutch lunch. Others in the party were Dr. and Mrs. Clovis Altimeir, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jennings, Mr and Mrs. Herbert Petersen, Mr and Mrs Donald Jones, Mr and Mrs David Morgan, Miss Dorothy Roberts and Don Williamson.

A MEETING of the executive board of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs will be held Tuesday at 12 o'clock in the recreation room of the First Presbyterian church. Mrs A. W. Bacon, president, will be in charge and plans will be completed for the annual community fine arts day to be sponsored by the federation May 5.

Twelve members of the F. C. club attended a meeting Thursday afternoon with Miss Myrtle Brothers of Scranton avenue. A wedding anniversary gift was presented to Mrs. Betty Whittington. Mrs. Flossie Leonard won a mystery package and Mrs. Lorena Hoptry won a door prize. Contest honors were won by Mrs. Edith Wilmeth and Mrs. Betty Howell. Mrs. Mona George and Mrs. Leonard assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Miss Young And Air Cadet Faught To Wed in May

JUDGE AND MRS HECTOR S. YOUNG of 203 Kensington place are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Mary Anne, to Aviation Cadet Courtney LaMar Faught, son of Mr. and Mrs C. C. Faught of Delaware. No date has been set for the wedding, which will take place in Columbus, Miss, the latter part of May when Cadet Faught receives his wings and commission as a second lieutenant.

Miss Young and her fiance are graduates of Harding High school. Miss Young attended the University of Michigan where she affiliated with Chi Omega sorority and until recently was receptionist in the office of Dr J F Smyth.

Cadet Faught attended Ohio Wesleyan university, where he was a member of the basketball team. He was a member of the 1936 Harding High school team which shared the North Central Ohio league championship with Ashland. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. Since last September he has been a cadet in the Army air corps.

The engagement and approaching wedding were announced to a group of the bride-elect's friends Saturday evening when Mrs. Young entertained with a buffet bridge at her home. Guests included Mrs. C. C. Faught and Miss Carolyn Faught of Delaware.

Men Outnumber Ohio Women in Most Professions

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—Professions — usually considered a man's field except for teaching and nursing — employed 71,079 Ohio women to 106,921 men in 1940, the bureau of census reported today.

Men dominated medicine, law, pharmacy and dentistry, but women ran up their score with 31,974 teachers to 13,707 men and 18,134 nurses to 280, the census showed.

There were 378 women physicians and 8,570 men; 209 female lawyers and judges to 9,021 male, while women dentists, osteopaths, pharmacists men and veterinarians numbered only 249 compared to these totals for the men: dentists 3,705, osteopaths 282, pharmacists 3,570 and veterinarians 645.

There was no clergy classification for women, but 6,787 men were in this field.

Men led women, 2,360 to 794 in the authors, editors and reporters group, while there were almost twice as many male artists and art teachers as women, 2,067 to 1,056.

Actors outnumbered actresses 157-128, but women virtually held their own in the musical field having 3,432 musicians and teachers of music to 3,756 for the men.

In the higher education bracket women fell short in number, 912 to 2,957 colleges presidents, professors and instructors.

The social and welfare fields draw a majority of their personnel from women. Here the ratio is 2,186 to 1,526.

Dancers, showmen and athletes are lumped in the report which shows 1,646 men and 359 women in these divisions.

Denison Professor on Program Here

Dr. J. L. King, head of the English department at Denison university, will be the guest speaker for a meeting of the Marion Association of University Women Tuesday evening at Hotel Harding. His subject will be "Shakespeare's World."

Dr. King is a popular professor at Granville and gives an enjoyable interpretation of Shakespeare. Dinner will be at 6:30 o'clock and as has been the custom this season, holders of tickets or persons wishing to hear the talk are invited to join the members for the talk following the dinner. A small admission fee may be paid by non-members at the hotel the evening of the lecture.

An inflated rubber ball covered with chains has been invented by a resident of Colorado, Calif., for cleaning the inside of pipe lines, being inflated to fill a pipe after insertion.

Club Women To Attend Sessions Of State Meeting

CLUBWOMEN of Marion city and county will join hundreds of others in the state for the forty-sixth convention of Women's Clubs which will be held in Columbus, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The session will open Wednesday morning with registration at headquarters in the Deshler Wallick Hotel where all meetings will be held. The formal opening will be Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. M. Y. Newcomb of Cincinnati, president of the state federation, will deliver her message and reports will be given by state officers.

Kathryn Turney Garten of Indianapolis will be the speaker Wednesday evening. Dr. Herschel W. Nisonger, professor of adult education at Ohio State university, will be chairman for a symposium, "Education's Task in Winning The War and The Peace," Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. This will be followed by the pioneer luncheon at noon, and in the afternoon the speaker will be Louis Bromfield, author, whose subject will be "The Nation's Conservation Problem." A reception and tea at the state library with the Ohioana Library committee as hostesses will close the afternoon session.

The Pan-American Fellowship student, Miss Isabel Giraldo, will be presented at the Pan-American dinner Thursday evening and Dr Franklin P. Snyder, president of Northwestern university, will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "Education in a Perplexed World."

Friday morning will be devoted to forums and Friday afternoon a guest speaker will be Frances P. Bolton, congresswoman from Cleveland. She will speak on the Responsibility of Women in the Political Life of Today." The speakers on the evening program will be Gregor Ziemer, WLW commentator, and Governor Bricker. Mr. Ziemer was headmaster and dean of the American school in Berlin for the last 11 years, returning recently to America. He interviewed Hitler as a newspaper man for his school and was the first American ever to broadcast a Hitler speech to the United States.

Reports and announcement of scrapbook awards and talks will make up the closing session on Friday.

25th Anniversary Dinner Is Given by Marion Couple

MR. AND MRS. CLARENCE L. RUTHERFORD of 227 South High street entertained a group of friends at dinner at Hotel Harding and later at their home yesterday in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

A gift bouquet of pink rosebuds and sweet peas and white stocks was the centerpiece for the dinner and later graced the tea table at the Rutherford home. Roses and spring flowers bearing congratulatory messages carried out a decorative theme throughout the rooms where the guests spent the afternoon informally and with music. Contributing musical numbers were Mrs. O. D. Anderson, Mrs. Harry T. Williams, Hamer Mitchell and the hostess.

The celebrants received many gifts of silver and flowers, and telegrams and congratulatory messages. Presiding at the table for tea were Mrs. Walter Shealy and Mrs. LeRoy Foster. Guests for the day included Mr and Mrs. Hamer Mitchell of Lima, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Shealy, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Foster and Mrs. Hattie Richards.

Former Teacher in Hawaii Gives Nature Club Talk

ANYONE who has ever lived in the Pacific Islands will always love them, Miss Clara B. Snyder told members of the Burroughs Nature club and their guests in a talk Saturday night at the club's annual guest day party in the ballroom of Hotel Harding. Miss Snyder, whose world cruises have taken her into many unusual and interesting parts of the globe, spent several years in Hawaii as a teacher in private and government schools. She is now a member of the staff at the Oak Street school. "Her talk was titled "Hawaii—Our Pacific Paradise."

The musical part of the program was presented by Mrs. Harry T. Williams, Miss Barbara Brethaupt and Miss Barbara Hedges. Miss Brethaupt played the first movement of "Concerto in B Flat Minor," Tchaikowsky, and the orchestration was played by Mrs Williams. Miss Hedges sang two numbers, "Trees," and "Bells of St. Mary's," Miss Brethaupt played the piano accompaniments for the vocal numbers.

For the dinner the table centerpiece was a low blue bowl filled with jonquils, forsythia and fruit blossoms, and completing the decorative note were crystal bowls of spring flowers. Favors were colorful programs decorated with bird cutouts.

Miss Bess Snider, president, welcomed the guests and gave a short sketch of the organization of the group. A charter member present was Mrs J. E. Smith. Miss Sophia Mack, program chairman, presided.

Miss Snyder took her audience on a journey around the Hawaiian island, describing the plant and bird life, and also some of the customs of the people. She described Hawaii as being only four and one-half days from the California coast and that when the boat arrives it is always a fiesta day on the island. Every one goes down to meet the boat and there is music and festivity. Accenting her costume was a lei and she gave an interesting description of the custom of presenting these the visitors arriving on the island. They are made from every kind of flower and many beautiful patterns have been designed by the natives, she said.

Many trees have been brought from other countries and many of the native trees are now extinct, Miss Snyder told her audience. Many birds also are being imported and they are well protected. There is a very active bird club in Hawaii and each year the study of nature is growing in interest. Following her talk Miss Snyder answered questions and she had with her a number of interesting articles from the island.

Miss Snyder returned last summer from the Pacific Islands. She taught in the private school of Kamehameha in Honolulu and also in the public schools, and in the schools on the Island of Maui. Just prior to returning home she was teaching in Honolulu.

Guests included Miss Snyder, Miss Hilda Joseph of Findlay, Mrs. Dana D. Leslie of Washington, D. C., Mrs Harold Monnette, Mrs. Robert Caulfield, Miss Jessie Henderson, Mrs. Floy Wideman, Miss Ruth Dell Auman.

The dinner was arragned by the social committee composed of Mrs. T. D. Saine, chairman, Miss Christine Rieck, Miss Gertrude Lawrence and Miss Mary Kull. Members of the program committee are Miss Mack, Mrs. George N. Hinds and Miss Ruth Artz.

Weddings

Miss Janet Kirts daughter of Mr and Mrs D L Kirts of 279 Pearl street and Thomas Johnston, son of Mr and Mrs Harry E Johnston of 433 Girard avenue were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in First Presbyterian church. Rev Howard L Olewiler read the single ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a green and white print redingote ensemble with luggage tan accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Miss Mildred Clark and Carroll Carls were the attendants.

Following the ceremony Mr and Mrs. Claybourne Sproat were hosts at an informal reception in their home on South Vine street. Miss Gladys Uncapher and Mrs Carroll Carls presided in the dining room.

After a short wedding trip the couple will live at 315½ Girard avenue. Both Mr. and Mrs Johnston are employed in the office of the City Loan & Savings Co.

$50,000 for one 90-millimeter anti-aircraft gun sounds like a lot of money, doesn't it? But this type gun is a real "plane-cruher" — one shell from it can smash a half-million dollar Jap bomber quicker than you can swat a fly.

THIS ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN COSTS $50,000

YOUR HOUSE may not be a military target, but bombs don't stop to inquire. Bombs don't ask your name or the names of your children, either. In this war, as in no other in history, we are all targets. Blackouts merge soldiers and civilians alike. "War is hell" . . . for all of us. And it is costly . . . for all of us.

Take the anti-aircraft guns that must be counted on to protect your home, your family. Did you know that just one costs $50,000? Just one—and we need 20,000 at once . . . for the fighting front as well as the home front.

Who's going to pay the bill? Not only for the guns, but for the tanks and ships and planes our boys must have to smash the Axis?

Who? Why all of us, . . . you and I and the man next door. Because we are all in this war, and because blood and tears and sweat don't mean a thing if they do not come from everybody. Everybody must put every dime and dollar he can spare into Bonds and Stamps, even if it means going without something else . . . remembering that we are apt to go without everything, unless we win. Here is one sure way to turn your patriotism into action and to help win this war—go to your local bank, post office, or other official agency for Bonds now!

Remember you can start buying Bonds by buying Stamps for as little as 10c and that you get a $25.00 Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75.

They Shall Perish by the Sword

MAIN hope of the plotters who started this war was a sufficient advantage in airplanes to crush their victims before they could organize resistance. They came perilously close to success. But England with two of the savage raids of 1940 and at long last in 1942 is returning them with interest. Japan has piled up a tremendous score in the far Pacific due entirely to superiority in the war, but the Japanese, too, are going to learn how it feels to have their favorite weapon turned against them.

Americans have made a promise to themselves. They are going to build more and better airplanes than Germany and Japan can build. They are going to man these planes with hundreds of thousands of their young men who have dreamed of being pilots, who have more familiarity with mechanics than the young men of any other nation, who have as much native ability as the young men of any other nation. Americans are going to do everything else that's needed, too, but chiefly they are going to become the world's dominant air power.

They are going to take this frightful weapon invented by two American boys who had no interest in killing and turn it against the plotters who connived to conquer the world with it. They are going to make Hitler, Mussolini, and the military racketeers of Japan see bombers in their nightmares. The howl of the jungle beasts that has been heard again inside the portals of civilization is going to be stilled by the roar of 1000-horsepower motors. And when the war has been won, the airplane is going to fill the skies on missions of peace—the real triumph of the idea the American Wright brothers built in canvas, wood and wire at Kitty Hawk.

Revised Picture of Adolf Hitler

CURRENT news fits together to make a new picture of Adolf Hitler. The spring drive which was to have driven back the troublesome Russians is late in getting started; the Russians, on the other hand, seem to be hellbent on doing some spring driving of their own. The submarine campaign in the north Atlantic, which was to have immobilized Great Britain, has done tremendous damage, but has not kept the British from staging the most furious aerial assault of the war so far. The African drive that was to have driven a German wedge toward Alexandria in Egypt seems to have petered out in the sandstorms. Malta still stands and still fights back. The useful illusion of conquered France as a sovereign power has had to be discontinued for reasons that will be better known in the near future and which certainly will be related closely to a change in Nazi plans dictated by growing pressure. Another "Commando" raid can happen any time. United States Secretary of War Stimson has been talking for publication about invasion of Europe. Lend-lease supplies from the United States are reaching Russia. American aircraft and tank production both are rising rapidly. Europe's subdued populations are showing no inclination to take their place in the Nazi scheme of things without a long, bitter struggle.

The picture of Adolf Hitler in 1942 is no longer that of a conqueror who plots the moves and keeps the other side guessing till he is ready to make the first thrust. The other side is still guessing, waiting for the Nazi lightning to strike in some new quarter. But the lightning has lost some of its snap and power. It is tired, as the German people must be tired. In 1942 Hitler, too, is having to do some guessing. Either his next surprise will clinch victory, or another spring will find Adolf Hitler peering wanly out of the steel cage that is waiting for him.

No Time for Fever

THERE is one point on which all real and bogus experts agree. This is the critical year of the war.

The side that makes the greater improvement in its position during the next six months will be the favorite to dictate the condition of peace when the fighting finally burns itself out. Though the war may continue for an indefinite time, the issue will have been decided for all practical purposes during the summer and fall of 1942.

Under ordinary circumstances (if anyone can remember when ordinary circumstances prevailed) this would be the season for spring fever. Attacks would be succumbed to after only nominal resistance. Figuratively, mankind in the north temperate zone would yawn and sit down to take things easy, victims of tropic laziness.

But it is the north temperate zone where the war is going to be decided, this summer. South of the equator Japan is just winding up a furious campaign that reached almost to Australia before it was stopped. Far north, in Burma, on this side of the equator, the Japanese are coiling for a blow at India. And much farther north, in a broad belt running through the islands of Japan, the middle of the United States and through southern Europe the efforts and plans that will determine the outcome of the war are being speeded up. There is no spring fever in 1942—only spring fervor.

News Behind the News

Nazis Believed Bidding for Syria in New Manipulations Through France.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 20—The Germans have opened their drive on the near east in Vichy.

Its point in lifting their puppet Laval into the driver's seat at this time is discernible in the power he set forth at once—one aim in particular Laval wants is restoration of French colonies.

It was clear the war not taking place in Indo-China which is in the hands of the Japs, or equatorial Africa, which is held by the free French. Plainly he wanted Syria, where the British are standing guard against Hitler's push for conquest of the near east oil field.

If Laval can get Syria for Hitler, the Nazis will have won a bigger military objective than any achieved on the battle front in Russia.

It is a plot of typical Nazi design, involving treacherous use of the French fleet. Although the honor of France has been pledged that those ships would not be turned upon the British or upon us, the honor of France is to some extent in Nazi hands.

France no doubt has more naval strength in the Mediterranean than the British. If Laval can get Darlan to send these neutralized ships forth to occupy Syrian ports, it is doubtful that the British will be able to stop them. Such a conquest has an excellent chance of success.

And while it would be done in the name of France, Hitler's soldiers would be moving toward Cyprus before the first French war vessel had dropped anchor in Syrian ports.

Thus Nazi Germany, blocked so far from reaping oil by the Russian army, and stopped by the vastness and insistent neutrality of Turkey, has ephemed a flank attack through Vichy to reach the prime objective.

Admiral Darlan

Admiral Darlan, the new commander-in-chief of land, sea and air forces, is the only figure apparent in Vichy who might stand against this Nazi chicanery. He is extremely angry with the British, but seems to like the United States well enough. He has no reason to be thankful to the Nazis for shoving Laval in over him. And what he privately thinks of Laval is only equaled by his opinion of the British.

Petain shares these views, but Petain is too old now to stand up against Laval. He practically bowed himself out by accepting the new arrangement. He has been subject to considerable pro-Laval back-stabbing by the reactionary crowd.

He has also no reason to love the Germans. He once said he had but one ambition which must be realized before he could die happy: the release of the French prisoners. But in all negotiations with Hitler to accomplish that aim, he has been deceived or circumvented.

Consequently there may be considerable scrambling for position among the men of Vichy, with their variety of ambitions and hates, before Hitler can get his way.

Puzzle

A puzzling feature of the Vichy manipulation was the withdrawal by the French of their first communique rejecting our position. An hour or so after it was given out, an official order came through to hold it up.

This was done at the instance of a German official, who told the French officials he did not want to offend the United States. That sounded strange, coming from a Nazi with whom we are at war.

The only plausible explanation is that Hitler is afraid we will move in on Martinique and other French possessions, if provoked too far. An aircraft carrier is there and we could use it.

Laval either did not care what we thought or believed the matter had gone too far to be rectified. He later ordered the communique released.

Gasoline Rationing

Rationing of gasoline is in the making to begin around June 1. Ration books will be issued to holders of registration certificates, and the number of your car will be stamped in the book so it cannot be used for any other car.

Sixth Columnists

In all this ado about sixth columnists, there is no indication of a concerted campaign to circulate subversive material among the soldiers or sailors in the service. The activity strangely seems directed toward civilian morale.

The Tale of British Taxes

By William J. Humphreys
Associated Press London Correspondent

THE average Briton, on the eve of a new war budget, was confident that another tax increase couldn't be squeezed out of his already frugal spending. But that is exactly what the new budget proposed by Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of exchequer, would do. Terrific new taxes have been added to beer, whisky, wine and tobacco.

Present basic income tax rate takes half of everything he earns, unless he earns more than the average. In that case it takes up to $19.50 out of every $20. This is close to the saturation point.

Britain's small wage earner knows that whatever additional burden he is called upon to shoulder can not be much. What cheers him, in a misery-loves-company way is that in any event all must stagger along under proportionate tax loads.

For Americans, whose new income tax rates have brought home compellingly the high cost of modern war, the picture of the less fortunate United Kingdom taxpayer may be of some comfort. It may also suggest two stern lessons for the future, if the war drags on.

Those lessons, says Geoffrey Crowther, editor of the London economist, are:

"One, don't underestimate the extent to which expenditures will rise;

"Two, don't underestimate the people's willingness to pay."

In general, the $39,700,000,000 that Britain has spent since the war began was raised as follows:

Revenue (taxation) $17,092,000,000 (43 per cent).

Loans $14,040,000,000 (35 per cent).

Floating debt (short term loans from banks, etc.) $8,596,000,000 (22 per cent).

"UNFORTUNATELY," Crowther explained, "it isn't possible to say that all loans have been purchased out of savings. Banks have taken some and some have been bought in exchange for other capital assets (such as American securities) surrendered to the government.

"A white paper to be issued with the budget should make it possible to break down the total into: (1) Taxes, (2) Other compulsory contributions such as social security payments and war damage premiums, (3) Savings, (4) Drafts on capital, (5) Credit expansion.

"How has this all been done? On taxes the story is obvious. On loans, the national savings campaign has been the answer.

"The policy has been pursued for most of the war of having war loans on tap, that is, continuously convertible into cash, and of not making specific issues of fixed amounts from time to time.

"Banks play their share, too. In addition to the familiar method of offering treasury bills to them, banks have been asked to deposit specified sums week by week with the treasury.

"Except on matters of detail there have been no major criticisms of this system. On the contrary, two aspects have given great satisfaction.

"One is the high proportion raised in taxes — considerably higher than in the last war. The other is the low rate of interest—nothing has been borrowed at more than 3 per cent. The average rate is just under 2 per cent.

"Moreover, interest paid out is subject to the full rate of income taxes and surtaxes, so that the net cost to the government is well under 1 per cent.

"That is considerably different from the last war."

See What's Inside You!

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Wide World Science Writer

NEW YORK — The attack of the hitherto invisible antibodies, the mysterious little things which fight disease, has been photographed for the first time with the new electron-microscope.

Antibodies are objects of molecule size. After any disease whatever, they form in the system to help a person, plant or animal recover.

This first picture shows their attack on tobacco mosaic disease. The cause of the disease is a virus, which in the microscope is a large, match-shaped molecule.

The antibodies are placed in a clear, watery solution containing the virus molecules. The antibodies are so small that even the electron microscope does not define them clearly.

But the large virus molecule changes visibly under their action. It swells to three times its normal diameter. In that condition, the virus is unable to cause the mosaic disease.

Whether the antibodies pass to the inside of the large disease molecules, or merely fasten themselves to the outside, like a swarm of tugboats around an ocean liner, is not yet clear.

The pictures, with the molecules magnified up to 100,000 times, were shown to the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists by Doctors W. M. Stanley and T. F. Anderson of the Rockefeller Institute, Princeton, N. J.

Production of antibodies to cure human disease is one of the main objects of medicine. The electron-microscope promises significant aid.

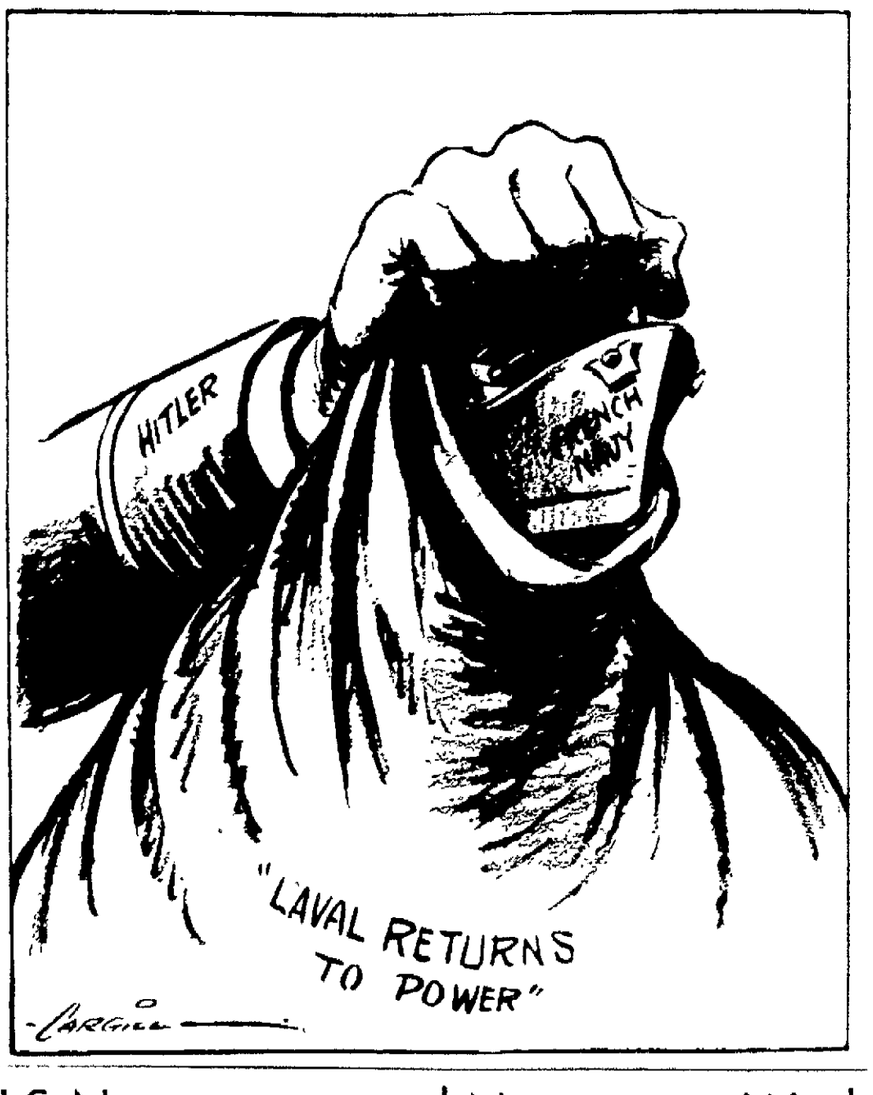
"THE FLEET'S IN"



U.S. Newspapers and Newspaper Work

By Frederic Nelson in The Baltimore Evening Sun.

The writer of this thoughtful point of view on newspapers was associate editor of the Evening Sun until his acceptance of a position with Saturday Evening Post in connection with that magazine's editorial reorganization.

ONE summer down on Cape Cod I didn't see a newspaper for three days. The radio news broadcasts mostly had to do with the price of fish and the progress of Joe Cronin's Red Sox. After rushing around biting my nails for a few hours I found myself completely reconciled to life without a newspaper. It was rather alarming. Other people might get to like it and where would we journalists be then, poor things?

Of course, when I thought it over later, it was clear that I wasn't tired of newspapers at all, but only of the world which they "covered" so efficiently. Nudists aren't tired of prudery, but only of buttons and zippers. It is a frequent confusion. People who are tired of murders sometimes get the idea that they are fed up with newspaper accounts of murders. And there are people who wish the papers "wouldn't print all this stuff about the war." What they really wish is that there was no war to print all this stuff about.

In other words, the newspapers have so much influence on people that they imagine their distaste for events is distaste for the newspapers which tell them what's going on. Of course, the readers resist this idea and explain that, far from attracting them, the newspapers repel them. "Look at Roosevelt," they say, "almost all the papers were against him, but he goes on being elected and elected and elected."

OF course he does, and it is because the newspapers have so much influence that not even their editorial writers can counteract it. The newspapers print all that Mr. Roosevelt says, including jibes at the newspapers. They print accounts of what the New Deal is doing for farmers, unemployed people, labor unions, young people. They quote biting sneers at bankers, "Tories" and the boss. All this is on page 1 dressed up in what the type experts call an attractive package. Turn to Page 25 to find out what the editors think of all this extravagance, coddling, rabble rousing and inefficiency. The editorials may cause a brief furrow of doubt to ripple the brow, but, although it is treason to the trade to say it, the way newspapers influence people is by telling them what is going on.

This is why I have never understood the constant irritation displayed by New Dealers when they mention the press. The conventional New Deal view is: "Freedom of the press." What does that mean except freedom for some big publisher? Is that worth much of a struggle? I submit that it is. For one thing, the big publisher complained of gives his readers fairer and more impartial display of news than would have been thought of in the days of individualistic editors. Horace Greeley, Henry Waterson and James Gordon Bennett were great editors, but their contemporaries would never have expected them to be "fair to both sides." I remember getting a terrific lambasting from an editor of the old school for letting an item creep in which was out of line. "This paper is Republican from the weather summary on Page 1 to the last classified ad," he explained. I don't believe there is a publisher living who could even put that into English. Of course, the old-timers had influence—precisely because they were unfair and because the news end wasn't so well done.

IF I were asked what is the matter with the newspapers I should reply that they are too good. They present facts efficiently, entertainingly and in pieces better written than in those canonized Old Days. But what has become of the crotchety editors who cut loose and laid about them without mercy? The old New York Sun's editorial on the day after Wilson's first election began: "God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform." They wrote 'em in those days. Nobody has come boiling into an editor's office with a riding crop for years. Perhaps that is the trouble with American journalism today.

Still and all it is great fun working for newspapers. You get the brush-off from a lot of interesting people and their secretaries and you work with a crowd of disorderly, clear-headed and divinely discontented people. If there are any young people hanging about looking for advice on journalism as a career, I should say, as the first potbellied city editor who ever hired me said, "If you want to be a damn fool, come on in and go to work."

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, April 20, 1932.

Funeral services were held in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for N. H. Pinyerd, 79, former Marion city councilman and Huber Mfg. Co. foreman, who died Sunday.

Plans for work on another section of Harding Highway were announced by Cecil R. Leavens, resident engineer for the highway department, who said that a six-mile section from Meeker west to the Hardin county line would be improved.

George A. Gelbaugh, 79, retired contractor, died at his home on South Prospect street.

Mrs. Dallas Harruff gave a bridge party at her home on Elm street, honoring Mrs. William Bailey of Youngstown.

Mrs. U. E. Hootman, Mrs. Jay Vaughan and Mrs. Miller Key were hostesses to the Pleasant Township Farm Women's club.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Arcuri of Cass avenue and a son to Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Cope of near Marion.

City police gathered 40 pairs of roller skates as they continued a campaign to eliminate street skating. Marion Chief Marks said roping off a section of Vernon Heights boulevard where youths could skate in safety apparently had not solved the problem. Confiscated skates were to be returned to the owners later but a record was to be kept of all the names of offenders.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, April 20, 1922.

Supporting President Harding, the house passed the 1923 naval appropriations bill with an amendment fixing the enlisted personnel at 86,000. This defeated a proposal that would have limited the man power to 67,000.

R. T. Lewis, chairman of the Centennial Publicity committee, announced he had received a letter from the Radio Corp. of America stating the company's willingness to cooperate in broadcasting President Harding's speech at the city's centennial celebration. One thousand arrows advertising the centennial exhibition July 5 to 7 were ordered.

The first performances of the three-day Grotto minstrel show was given at the Grand theater. The performance was in charge of Charles Gano, a former Marion man. Lewis Baller was interlocutor, and among those in featured roles were Ernest Mason, Harry Williams, Marion Dusenbery, Frank Hinklin, Aaron Goetting, Marshal Bentley, Dexter Hazen, Bernhard Critchfield and John Courtney. One of the numbers was directed by Dr. A. F. Linscott.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Borland of near Marion.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson and daughter Josephine of Boston were visiting Mrs. Johnson's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Baker of East Center street.

Hay Burners

Out Here in Sunny Cali... Race Horses Have Disappe... but Here's Your Derby Win...

By DAMON RUNYON

LOS ANGELES, April 20—The war is much closer to one out here than it is in New York or probably anywhere else in the country. Perhaps it is only natural, because, as in the "theater of war," with numerous interceptor planes not uncommon overhead and searchlights frequently probing night skies, and with the population in a philosophical state of mind that accepts a raid as quite a matter of course.

But there are many little things that remind you of the war aside from the manifestations. Men and women in uniform and the big evacuation of the Japs, and jeeps, jeeps, creeps, or whatever they call them, dashing through the streets. At dinner in some restaurants you perhaps notice the absence of familiar faces bending over your food and you learn that many foreign-born workers are affected by the curfew.

They have to be in their homes by 8 p. m. and remain there until 6 a. m., the former hour eliminating their value as servitors at dinner. They may live too far from their place of employment to reach their homes in time before the deadline unless they start early. The same applies to quite a number of kitchen employees, Italians and Germans.

Most of the restaurants that employed help have replaced them with citizens. Some of the few old employes and let them work only the time they have to lam for their homes. Many of the aliens have gone to Chicago and other inland cities where the curfew does not apply. The Japanese, of course, have no alternative. They must go to evacuation camps.

IT GIVES one rather a faraway feeling to read out here of various activities in the east and elsewhere that have been supplanted in these parts—horse racing, for instance.

That includes the Kentucky Derby. You remember is usually a hot topic in New York at this season of the year. I am told it used to be rather hot here, too, about the time that was when Santa Anita had discovered something in horseflesh that seemed to be Derby possibilities.

This year, southern California racing fans scarcely know the names of the contenders for the 1942 Derby that may be the last Derby of the old-time scale until the end of the war. I do not like to sound this note of alarm to my friend Col Matt Winn, but he probably realizes it better than anyone else. The rubber tire, usually carries so many thousands to Louisville may not be available in future years, if the war were no other consideration.

It has been my custom to give my readers the probable Derby winner about this time, a holdover from the habits of my sporting writing days and I see no reason to abandon the custom now. The horse is Apache, a steed belonging to Belair stable. The last edition of the betting book that reached me offered odds of some such like 12 to 1 against Apache winning the Derby. It ought to be that kind of a price that he will not go to the post. Indeed, it ought to be some kind of a price against any horse nominated going to the post, such are the vicissitudes of horse racing.

DEVIL DIVER is my second choice, which is not difficult to make in view of the fact that he beat the mighty Whirlaway at Kentucky the other day. Alsab is one I must watch with for some part of the money. Alsab was the greatest two-year-old of 1941 but did not have much luck as a three-year-old in Florida. You may disregard his winter form. He will come again. Whirlaway has just the same chance of history.

The new racing barons of southern California, who stocked up in a hurry a few years ago on horseflesh and found themselves stoking the hayburners all the past winter have shipped their steeds to the various racing centers in the east and middle west. Some of them should, if they hear a horse nicker. It reminds them of the feed bills.

Too Much To Bear

Just suppose a citizen of the Coolidge era woke up one of these nice spring mornings after doing a Rip Van Winkle for about 15 years and someone gave him a newspaper without telling him what to expect.

He'd see the familiar word "bootlegging" in a headline. A wife, he would be warned, could be prosecuted for "bootlegging" cuffs on her husband's cuffless pants.

"U. S. Freezes Bicycle Stocks; Rationing Ordered." That would puzzle him. Reading on, he'd learn this was done to stop a run on bicycles—by adults. Fifteen years ago, a bicycle was a relic of an early transportation period like the ox cart.

Then he might notice that his governor had gone into the cheese business by setting a plant in Syracuse. It had happened here. Joseph Stalin and his boys had rallied the American proletariat. Then his eye might come to rest on "Army Streamlines Star Spangled Banner So Males Can Hit Land of the Free" or "Army Brass Hats Wrestle Over Undress Uniform for Women's Corps."

He might even glance at the story with the dateline from India. "Japs Mass Forces in Burma For Drive On Calcutta." In 1927 Japan was a third rate power. What had happened at Singapore?

The paper would drop from his shaking hands and he would sink back into bed. "I'll get up again in another 15 years," he'd gasp and close his eyes.

Two Marion Men Get High Masonic Degree

Mayor Russell C. Snare and Harold J. Grigsby of Marion were members of a class of 145 candidates who were given the 32nd degree in Masonry Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at Columbus. Conferring of the degree was the highlight of the annual spring reunion of Scioto Consistory in Columbus. Mayor Snare was elected vice president of the class.

Among Marion members of the consistory attending were James Cooper, Clarence L. Price, H. T. Gracely, J. P. Jones, Clyde Smith and Charles Merkel.

Officers Selected By Grand Prairie P.-T. A.

Mrs. Tollie Rhinehart was elected president of the Grand Prairie school Parent-Teacher association at a meeting Friday night. Others elected are Daily Hite, vice president; Miss Nellie Myers, secretary; Miss Gwendolyn Wagner, treasurer; Mrs. Hubert Ackley, reporter. Mrs. Earl Temple and Mrs. Clyde Harris were elected co-chairmen of arrangements for a last-day-of-school picnic on May 15. The ninth grade play, "Sound Your Horn," was announced for May 8. Devotions were conducted by Rev. W. L. Cook of the Morral and Grand Prairie Baptist churches. A program in charge of Herbert Brewer consisted of songs by Bobby Wingett, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Ralph Wingett, readings by Barbara Brewer, a talk by Mrs. J. B. Holloway of Marion, accordion selections by Miss Mary Barkley, a reading by Mrs. O. G. McGlone and prayer by Rev. J. B. Holloway of Trinity Baptist church.

Four State Highway Patrol Arrests Made

Marion state highway patrolmen made four arrests over the week-end.

James Hern, 21, of Bucyrus was arrested Saturday night on a stop sign violation charge at the junction of Routes 23 and 4 north of Marion. He posted $10 bond for appearance in municipal court today.

Patrolmen arrested Manuel Nemerovsky, 19, of Cleveland Sunday morning in Waldo on the same charge. He also posted $10 bond for appearance in municipal court today.

John Yost, 44, of Cleveland was fined $10 and costs yesterday afternoon in the court of Mayor Spaulding in Delaware after having been arrested by patrolmen on a charge of unsafe operation on Route 42.

Ralph Brugger, 25, of near Galion was arrested last night on Route 23 north of Marion on a charge of unsafe operation. He posted $15 bond for appearance in municipal court today.

CALVARY CLASS MEETS

A spelling bee was a feature of the social hour when the Mizpah class of Calvary Evangelical church was entertained Friday night by Mrs. J. O. Baker of the Smeltzer road. The hostess conducted devotions, reading the 91st Psalm. A program consisted of three readings by little Miss Barbara Baker, and a poem by Mrs. Charles Wilhelm. The class joined in a church-wide project of sending gifts to men of the congregation who are in service, and voted to send remembrances to the hostess' son.

FOUNDRY PRODUCTION INCREASE IS GOAL

25 Per Cent Gain Is Aim of Association.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 20—A 25 per cent increase over last year's output is the goal of the nation's foundry industry, says Herbert S. Simpson, president of the American Foundrymen's association.

He made this assertion as the association opened its 46th annual convention today.

Nearly 90 per cent of the 4,500 foundries in the country are producing castings used directly or indirectly for war purposes, Simpson estimated. About half of the output is for weapons, ammunition and other supplies, and the remainder is used in the building of machinery and equipment for war industries.

Cast steel foundries are increasing production to meet demands for tanks and shells, and gray iron foundries are boosting output to serve the machine tool industry, said Simpson.

Included in the more than 200 exhibits arranged for the convention is a display of armament castings assembled by the Cleveland post of the army ordnance association.

DELAY SOUGHT ON LABOR BILL

President Asks Connally To Postpone Action on Senate Measure.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—President Roosevelt called Senator Connally (D-Tex) to the White House today for a conference expected to result in agreement by Connally to delay for a week an effort to bring a labor bill before the senate.

Connally, who evidently would be receptive to postponing action on a motion to take up a bill authorizing the government to seize strike-bound industrial plants, had reported he would not [illegible] that the President wanted action on the [illegible] before he agreed to any delay.

There [illegible] that the President would outline his war labor program in a message this week urging inflationary controls.

Meanwhile, union leaders were conducting a vigorous fight against inclusion of wage controls in such a program.

Presidential advisers were known to have been working on a plan for the general freezing of prices and payments for services, the latter including not only workers' wages but salaries and bonuses of executives as well. Also to be included, it was said, would be a formula for the limitation of war profits.

These controls would be linked with a tightening of credit restrictions and a subsequent campaign for non-compulsory purchases of war bonds in an effort to reduce excessive buying power and check any inflationary spiral of the cost of living.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, have strenuously opposed plans for general control of wages, contending that each dispute should be dealt with separately on its merits.

Further conferences with the President on this question were understood to have been scheduled.

Although it appeared likely that argument on the Connally motion would be delayed, chairman Thomas (D-Utah) called the senate labor committee together today to act on a revised measure by Senator Ball (R-Minn).

Former Resident of Caledonia Dies

John E. Moriarty, 67, a native of Caledonia, died March 31 in Spokane, Wash., of gangrene and hardening of the arteries, according to words received by Clyde Ault of 410 North State street, a family friend. He had undergone an operation for removal of his left leg. The funeral and burial were conducted in Spokane.

Mr. Moriarty moved from Caledonia to Spokane 49 years ago. He was a member of the Spokane fire department from 1893 until he retired in 1930 and at his funeral the firemen served as active and honorary pallbearers and provided a guard of honor. The fire wagon on which he last served escorted the funeral procession to and from St. Aloysius church, according to a news account received by Mr. Ault.

The widow, Mrs. Alice Moriarty, four daughters, 11 grandchildren and two brothers survive. The children and brothers all live in the west.

Subs Sink 14 Ships in Atlantic in Week

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 20—Enemy submarines piling up an ever-growing toll of Atlantic ship sinkings chalked up 14 more officially announced victims last week.

The navy-announced tabulation of Atlantic losses since Pearl Harbor reached 141 yesterday.

Submarines in the week of April 13-19 sank seven ships for a war total of 75 in eastern U. S waters; one off Canada for a total of 21 in that area; four in the Caribbean for a total of 34 and two off South America for a total of eight.

News Notes Of Ordnance Plant

Bulging Camp

A few days ago, officials reported a trailer camp on the out skirts of Marion that had been designed for 16 trailers was handling 30 trailer families and preparing to expand its facilities to take care of the increase. Now the count is reported to stand at 42 trailers in that particular camp.

One resident of the camp said he had met so many foremen and bosses among the trailer camp occupants that he wondered who was going to do the run-of-mine work. Some of the workers had been on other such projects and had found trailer life preferable to the accommodations that were available or within their means in the "boom towns" that war plants had created. Quite a number of the families have one or two children. The total population of the camp was well above 100 with 42 trailers located there.

Not Total Change

The story Lt. Col. John Huling Jr. told at a recent Marion meeting about a farmer being unable to find his farm when he paid a visit to an ordnance plant that had swallowed up his property is not likely to be repeated here. The reason: most of the road names in the Scioto Ordnance Plant area are to remain the same. A few of them may be changed, possibly because no ordnance plant area would be complete without a "Victory Lane" or some such patriotic designation. However, regardless of how much the complexion of the area is changed by plant construction work in the weeks to come, visitors will be able to get their bearings by signs marking the present roads and their present names—that is, if the visitors are able to get inside the area.

A Guard's Job

That brings up another matter—policing of the grounds and establishment of guards in and around the area.

You can't drive down some of the plant area roads now unless you can convince a polite guard that you have some business there. The forbidden areas probably will expand as construction work expands, and when the job is done it is not expected that sightseers will be permitted to drive close enough to the plant to see much.

The guards have lonesome jobs. Most of them "live" in automobiles parked at their stations. Most of them are diplomats, too. They are courteous and sympathetic about the curiosity of persons who drive around the plant area, but, "orders are orders."

One chap told us the other night that when his group of guards went out for their night's work the air was warm and spring was in the air. "Some of them kidded me about taking along a topcoat—several were in their shirt sleeves," he said. That night the temperature dropped to within a few degrees of the freezing mark and the guard shivered as he tried to imagine the plight of the thinly clad guards being obliged to weather the night in shirt sleeves, unable to leave even long enough to get more clothes.

Lt. Col. Huling in New Office

The office of Lt. Col. John Huling Jr., commanding officer of the Scioto Ordnance Plant, was moved over the week-end from the Cummin Memorial building at State and Center streets to a suite of offices in the Citizens building at Center and Prospect streets.

The new office, at the rear of the second-floor hallway, will be across the hall from the office that has been opened by the United States Rubber Co., which is expected to be the operator of the ordnance plant.

The offices vacated by Col. Huling will become an addition to the quarters of Capt. Robert Lockridge, area engineer for the war department. The engineers' office occupies a large portion of the second floor of the Cummin Memorial building.

Camp Perry Considered for Officers' School

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 20 — Adj. Gen. Whittier S. Bird reported today that the army was contemplating taking over most of Camp Perry for an ordnance officers training school.

Bird said officers surveyed the camp site yesterday and indicated they would report favorably on the proposal to Washington superiors. Establishment of the school would leave the state guard adequate facilities for summer training, Bird added.

The adjutant general also said the navy was considering taking over the central armory in Cleveland for 90 days. The Navy's purpose was not disclosed.

CALIFORNIA ON ALERT

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20—California's central coast region was held in a state of alert for three hours and 15 minutes early Sunday by an unidentified target off the coast. It was the fourteenth and longest alert of the war for the San Francisco region. There was no blackout.

JAPAN

their "destination safely. This evidently meant their return to bases.

A new Japanese communique, at sharp variance with earlier Tokyo bulletins, put the number of planes at 10 in all and said some which escaped "are understood to have fled to the Chinese mainland."

It, too, identified the raiders as American medium bombers — B-25's. One version heard in the United States by CBS said the communique reported one bomber forced down and its five crew members captured.

This was in evident conflict with the previous assertion that nine planes were downed—since there would be none left to escape if, of 10 attacking planes, nine were shot down and one was forced to land.

The new communique also hinted at Japanese confusion over the origin of the attacks. It did not mention where the raiders came from but observed that "a hostile navy unit centering around three aircraft carriers appeared April 18 at a distant point off the eastern coast of Japan proper but, fearing Japanese counterattack, fled without approaching Japanese shores."

Thus, without definitely saying so, it left the impression, that the planes may have come from the sea, delivered their attack and continued eastward to a landing place in free China.

Still another version was offered in the Italian press, the newspaper La Gazzeta Del Popolo of Turin expressed belief that the raiders started from bases in Soviet Russia secretly ceded to the United States.

U. S. Still Silent

That, of course, would be no solace to Japan.

Neither was there comfort for Japan in the United States' unbroken silence on the attacks, still concealing their origin, and her jittery week-end indicated how insecure she felt about the possibility of a return visit.

Twice yesterday air raid alarms put central Japan, including imperial Tokyo itself, on the alert, each time for about two hours—once in darkness starting at 2 a. m. and again in daylight at 1 p. m.

These may have been precautions against hostile planes, real or imagined, or merely rehearsals.

The radio listener of the London Daily Mail quoted a Tokyo broadcast announcing that air observers who failed to give timely warning of Saturday's unwelcome visitors would be court-martialled.

Berlin, whence has come reports of destruction in Japan on wider scale than was acknowledged at first, gave conflicting versions of yesterday's alarms. One broadcast said no enemy planes were sighted. Another said reconnaissance planes and fighters crossed over Tokyo without dropping bombs.

"The Japanese government," said the Berlin radio yesterday, "has provided funds for the rebuilding of the factories and dwelling houses and one cinema which were burned down in the Tokyo area."

This, from one of Japan's own axis partners, was the first acknowledgement of any industrial damage in the heart of the enemy's war effort—Tokyo, the capital, Yokohama and Kobe, two chief ports, and Nagoya, big center of aircraft production.

Nevertheless, despite official Japanese assertions that the attack failed and left Japan's war plant intact, Tokyo's own broadcasts hinted at extensive damage.

INHALATOR SQUAD UNABLE TO SAVE CHILD'S LIFE

Infant Son Dies at Chestnut St. Home.

James Nicolosi, 3-month-old only child of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Nicolosi, died yesterday at 8 a. m. in the home at 251 Chestnut street. Efforts of the inhalator squad from Central fire station to revive the baby were ineffectual. Ill of a slight cold and an ear infection, the baby strangled on phlegm, a member of the family said.

He was born in Marion on Jan. 7, to Ralph J. and Odessa Ralston Nicolosi. Surviving with the parents are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ralston of 589 Henry street and Mr. and Mrs. James Nicolosi of 781 West Center street. Friends may call at the home. The body will be taken to St. Mary Catholic church Tuesday at 2 p. m. and blessed. Burial will be made in St. Mary cemetery.

Food Prices Rising Too Fast, Taft Says

By The Associated Press

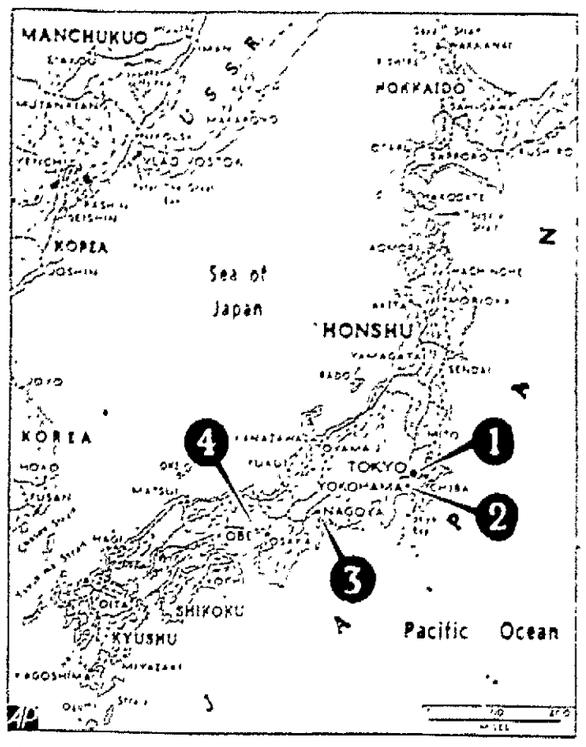
WASHINGTON, April 20—Asserting that food and other prices have been "rising too rapidly," Senator Taft, Republican of Ohio, said today that the "time has come to fix price ceilings on all raw materials, including basic agricultural prices."

Taft, who cooperated with Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Democratic congressional leaders in drafting the present wartime price control act, said in an interview that "instead of fixing retail prices controls should be applied on raw materials, because most farm products now are at levels that would permit this."

When congress drafted the price control act it wrote in provisions that would allow most basic farm products to rise before price controls could apply.

Prices are bound to increase but now they are going too fast," Taft said. "I believe we must let things rise about 10 per cent a year under our war production plans but they have been moving faster than that."

AMERICAN WARPLANES STRIKE JAPAN



The Japanese command announced that hostile warplanes bombed Tokyo (1), Yokohama (2), Nagoya (3) and Kobe (4) and caused air raid alarms to run throughout three of the four main islands of Japan. Observers in Tokyo said the raiders bore insignia of the United States air force. (Associated Press Photo Service).

Boy in Nightmare Chase by Fifty Men Stirs Marion Neighborhood

A 10-year-old Marion boy had a nightmare last night, and kept his neighbors, city police and firemen busy for a few minutes until things got straightened out.

He is Jack Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Smith of Kenmore avenue. The nightmare, believed to have been induced by fever from a slight cold he was suffering, came along about 10:45 last night.

Jack later said he suddenly sat up in bed and thought a group of men were blocking his bedroom door. Imagining they were after him, he said he remembers pushing out one of the first-floor bedroom windows and jumping out.

He ran to the nearby home of City Patrolman and Mrs. Marion B. Tatham and rattled the door, but didn't wait for an answer. Mrs. Tatham, suspecting prowlers, called the police.

Meanwhile, the parents, who had heard the window crash and found their son missing, were making a frantic search. Mrs. Smith told Mrs. Tatham her son was "gone", and Mrs. Tatham inferred from this that he might have had a sudden serious illness, so she notified the inhalator squad of the fire department.

In the meantime, Jack had gone to another neighbor's house, the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Oberlander. When Mr. Oberlander went to the door Jack told him 50 men were after him. Although he doubted this, Mr. Oberlander armed himself with some golf clubs but had no occasion to use them.

Jack, his forehead slightly cut by the window, his leg bruised by his jump, and suffering somewhat from the ordeal of running in barefeet and nightclothing in the chilly open air, was bundled into blankets and taken home. He was laughing about the incident this morning.

Jack and his parents are especially thankful for one thing—Jack was moved from an upstairs bedroom to one on the first floor just recently.

LABOR PRIORITIES PROPOSED BY M'NUTT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20 — Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission said today he would create a system of labor priorities, designed to get needed men into the most important war industries, but declared he did not contemplate a work or fight method of forcing men into war production.

Charged with responsibility for allocating man power and woman power among factories, farms and the armed forces, McNutt estimated 13,000,000 new recruits would be needed in war plants this year, and said that "we may be confronted with an overall nationwide labor shortage" in the event of a long war.

McNutt told a press conference he favored a program of "group" deferments from selective service induction, although acknowledging that such a program might conflict with present selective service procedure, and would require legislation to effect.

Such group deferments, excusing men of certain skill qualifications from military duty, would be upon not only an occupational group basis but also upon a regional basis, McNutt said, in order to take care of local shortages of trained labor.

Frenchman Target of Assassin's Bomb

BERLIN (FROM GERMAN BROADCASTS), April 20—DNB, quoting Paris dispatches, said today an attempt had been made at Rennes to assassinate Jacques Doriot, preponent of French collaboration with Germany.

The news agency said Doriot was the target of a bomb hurled into a theater where members of the French National People's party were holding a meeting. A woman was said to have picked the bomb up and tossed it into the orchestra pit where it exploded, injuring one person slightly.

A kraft paper sleeping bag that weighs only three pounds but is asserted to be as warm and wind and water proof as the most expensive textile bags has been developed in New Brunswick. The edges of the sheets being so formed that no joints are visible when two sheets come together.

10 Per Cent of Earnings in War Bonds Is Goal

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20 — Every American who receives an income will be urged to invest at least 10 per cent of it in war bonds or stamps.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, announcing that quotas would be set for each of the nation's 3,070 counties beginning May 1, said "ten per cent of every company payroll is the minimum war bond goal."

Bond sales, which soared to $1,000,000,000 in January, have dropped off recently to about $500,000,000 a month.

Laval Pushes Out on Voyage for His Nazi Master

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Dark-visaged Pierre Laval, reinstated chief of the Vichy government under Marshal Petain, takes his fateful pro-Nazi regime into gear today and starts out on the tortuous and dangerous road of service to his German master.

There can be no doubt that the fresh Vichy crisis is a momentous development and one fraught with perils for the allies. However, it still has to be demonstrated that Herr Hitler won't in the long run have done himself a far-reaching disservice by forcing his camp-follower back into a position of power in an effort to obtain the all-out French collaboration Berlin so long has sought.

The real answer rests in the reaction of the defeated but increasingly insurgent French people. Laval's value to Germany is likely to be small unless he can carry public opinion along with him. One wonders whether it was a bird of ill omen for Laval which came fluttering out of Rennes, France, today in the form of a Nazi report that an attempt had been made to assassinate Jacques Doriot, French advocate of collaboration with Berlin. That's a nasty reminder that a bullet all but ended Laval's own life last summer.

Hitler's Great Fear

Hitler knows the position as well as the next fellow. Every move of the fuehrer indicates his fear that retribution may boil up among these tortured folk while he is in the midst of his great trial by fire on the Russian front.

Laval is crafty. That's what Hitler wants—somebody who can bamboozle the French people.

One would expect to see the foxy ex-premier adopt the post of protector of his compatriots, perhaps backed by concessions from Hitler, and at the same time engineer schemes to deliver French aid to his country's conqueror. It might not be difficult, for instance, to arrange an incident which would put the British in such a position that Laval could charge them with attacking France. He then could appeal to the people to defend themselves.

Laval undoubtedly has promised Hitler the moon with trimmings, but the Frenchman's old skill would have forsaken him if he rushed into an outright break with the United States, or tried to use the big stick on his people. His tendency in past has been to use sugar rather than vinegar to catch his flies.

Opens Door for Allies

The moment Laval throws down the gauntlet to the United States and other allies, that automatically releases them from any further kidglove handling of the French government. They will feel free to protect themselves where necessary by seizure of French territory or warships.

The question will then arise whether the French people on the whole will regard such action sympathetically as calculated to be in their own interest. Well-informed French, tell me that while use of force by British might anger the French, similar action by the United States might well meet with approval.

Yes Laval may encounter serious difficulties in carrying out any great coup for his master. Trouble might come not only from the French people—including soldiers and sailors—but from Marshal Petain and his heir apparent, Admiral Darlan.

Darlan holds the navy in his hand—or has thus far—and he doesn't like Laval. The navy is Darlan's ace in the hole to keep himself and Petain in the running, and it will take a lot of doing to make the admiral surrender.

INSURANCE GROUP MEETS

Announcement of a special war bond contest to be held in May and June was made at a sales meeting of The Midland Mutual Life Insurance Co. Saturday in Hotel Harding. Charles E. Mr. Nisonger, before introducing the next speaker, said he had ... Ravenna last February and had seen some of the construction under way with some 14,000 men employed. He said the community faced critical problems, possibly more serious than those likely to develop here because Ravenna was a smaller community and the number of workers was larger than the number expected here. Ravenna, he remarked, probably had Ohio's worst war plant problem. He then introduced Judge Blake C. Cook, judge of the common pleas court of Portage (Ravenna) county and president of that county's Social Federation which tackled all of the community problems involved with the location of the Ravenna plant in Portage county.

Ravenna Judge Talks

Judge Cook said Portage county had a 1940 population of 46,000 ... about the same as Marion county, was predominantly an agricultural county, and had two population centers, Ravenna and Kent, both communities of about 6,000 residents. Late in 1940 came the announcement that the world's largest ordnance plant was to be located there in an area four miles wide and 10 miles long. It was to have hundreds of buildings.

"The community was at first indifferent, even when the construction workers began to arrive by the thousands from 38 different states. They were men who worked hard and played hard. We began to hear whisperings among the townspeople that these 'aliens' as they were first called were going to destroy our way of life and upset many of the things we held dear to our community's life. There was also talk about the 'ghost town' that would be left when the plant left.

"I think you could call the community attitude one of enmity not unmixed with fear.

"We saw 'Shantytown on Tobacco Road' develop—a community of 600 Negroes living in shacks jammed into an area about the size of four city blocks.

"Some of our people began to see that a social cyclone was coming, so we held a meeting to discuss the problems.

"We decided that inaction would bring chaos. On the other hand, we saw the possibility of intelligent action not only solving many of the new problems but also working benefits for the community that it did not have before.

The Ravenna Plan

"We divided our problems into sections such as housing, recreation, law enforcement, religion, etc. Then we called in all of the existing social groups and coordinated their activities toward meeting these various problems. For example, the health problem was turned over to the county health officer, with subdivisions in his group tackling such problems as nutrition, hospitalization, sewers, tuberculosis treatment and prevention.

"Understand, this was not a cure-all. It was just a matter of using what resources we already had to the best advantage.

"We were careful in setting up our organization to select volunteers who had a personal interest in the problem they were to work on. That's essential because without a sustaining interest, activity dies off after the first flush of enthusiasm.

"We finally had 14 divisions of community activity, each one of them governing itself and its activities in the best way it saw fit. Each one of these divisions had its own director and solved its own problems insofar as possible. The heads of these divisions made up what we called the assembly, which elected the executive committee of the Federated Social Agencies. The executive committee was a policy forming group and also stood by to provide help to any one of the divisions when it met a problem too big for it to handle alone. Surprisingly, the executive group got few calls for help because the divisions functioned well. All of these divisions were made up of persons from our own community, and all functioned purely on a volunteer basis.

"We made plans and went to work. At one time we occupied one floor of a downtown building and had a full-time executive secretary with 25 assistants. It really was a business corps.

Sought Federal Help

"We couldn't reach all our objectives alone, so we arranged to seek state and federal help on problems too big for the community to meet alone.

"The big obstacle was the attitude of the local people. That feeling of resentment had to be changed.

"Mind you, we were not seeking to change it simply to be nice to the plant and the people working there. We were thinking about the welfare of the community, but everything we did to help our own community also helped the plant.

"We put on a series of programs to tell the people what the plant was about and finally promoted a flag day celebration, using this as a test of public sentiment. The results—we had a four-mile-long parade and two miles of it was made up of war plant floats. We were beginning to overcome the resentment. Later, we put on a defense day program that attracted national attention and brought out 50,000 people. The people had shown they were ready to go along with our work.

"The first problem was housing. It's surprising, but our city of 6,000 found it had great powers of expansion. We were able to absorb 6,250 workers in a year. That's a sample of how a community can get things done if it really sets its heart to a problem.

"After Pearl Harbor our organization was converted into the civilian morale section of the civilian defense organization. Everything turned to a war-time basis and the community cooperation was even better than before.

"We have a fine organization and it's meeting a war-time need. It will still be a fine organization when the war ends to meet the new problems that will come along with peace."

Recreation Problems

The next speaker was L. W. Reese, field recreation representative of the Federal Security Agency. He is a former superintendent of schools at Washington C. H.

He said there are some 25 different defense areas in Ohio. All of them have problems for the communities to meet, and Marion, he said, apparently is thinking ahead and making advance preparations for its responsibilities.

The federal government may have to assist in meeting some of these, such as health, recreation and education, he said.

"So far as health is concerned, you may need a larger hospital. You may need new sewers, more water facilities. The federal government may have to help after local resources are used up."

"Educational problems may also require some federal help. A good recreation plan is essential—and I mean more than just basketball, football, baseball and track. Leadership and some facilities for these may have to come from the outside.

"We're going to check into the recreation outlook in Marion right away. I'm going to meet tomorrow (today) with some of your school officials on recreation plans."

Mr. Nisonger commented on Mr. Reese's talk by saying experience in other ordnance plant communities had shown that recreational facilities helped keep down law enforcement problems. He then called on Louis E. Michel, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who read a list of the recreational facilities existing in Marion. These included private enterprises such as theaters, bowling alleys, golf courses, etc., social and club groups such as agencies of the community fund and the recreational programs of some Marion organizations, and finally the public facilities such as the city parks, public library and others. He commented Marion has no gymnasium nor large auditorium, and that its city parks get only an average of $1,665 a year for operation as compared with an average of $14,377 for a group of other Ohio cities of comparable size in 1941.

Hospital Facilities

Someone in the audience asked Judge Cook what Ravenna did about hospital facilities. He answered that an addition to double the size of the hospital is being built and that the federal government is providing $100,000 for the expansion cost.

Supt. Holt asked what federal help might be obtained if from 600 to 1,000 more students were brought into Marion schools next fall in the midst of a year for which budget plans have already been made. Mr. Reese answered that federal help is available in such cases. Help is also provided for school transportation problems.

"In connection with help for schools," Mr. Reese continued, "the government likes to see school buildings in use at night in areas where it's necessary. I mean for special classes or for recreational facilities. Keep this in mind if you ask federal help in your school problem. I also might say the government helps meet serious school housing problems in two different ways, either with a temporary building program of some kind or help on a permanent type of building.

Supt. Mills of the county schools asked if there is federal help for school districts that have lost tax revenue through federal acquisition of ordnance plant areas. Judge Cook answered a bill is pending in congress to handle this problem. Portage county received $38,000 the first year to help transfer and relocate teachers and pupils, he said.

Possible USO Help

J. E. Oliphant of the Marion Community Foundation asked about the availability of USO and other federal recreational activities. Mr. Reese answered most USO money goes to soldier or sailor centers but help could be obtained in defense areas if the problem is critical. This would involve having the USO survey the local situation. One of the types of help the government might give in this connection would be construction of a recreation center building to be leased to the USO for $1 a year.

When someone asked about who would direct such outside activities locally, Judge Cook said Ravenna had maintained "home town rule" on all activities of this kind, even if the federal government gave substantial help, and suggested the same policy be followed here.

John Zuck, a representative of the Central Labor Union, asked if the government "bypassed" Ravenna in the early stages of the ordnance plant problem because its citizens at first did not cooperate in meeting the problems. Judge Cook said there was some difficulty, but that it resulted mostly "from lack of knowledge of who we were dealing with." He said, "I recall on one occasion we had a file of 72 different federal agency heads or representatives connected with housing alone." He also said there was some confusion and delay because of divided sentiment over the suggested use of the fairgrounds for a trailer camp, a suggestion which did not materialize. "Pearl Harbor made a big change in local attitude," he added. He told the government now they can use the courthouse lawn for temporary housing if they want to.

Ravenna's Public Attitude

Mr. Zuck asked if the community's early fears about the workers were justified.

Judge Cook studied a moment, smiled, and answered, "I think the community was a little intolerant at first. I'll admit I was somewhat of a skeptic at first to see and hear the doorstep singing of 'Sweet Adeline' by a group of men coming out of a barroom, but we should have realized that these were out-door men who worked hard and played hard. Answering your question more specifically, I can say that we'll soon have twice the population we had in 1940, and I don't have many more grand jury cases than I did before."

Mr. Reese said he wished to add a though to his previous remarks about recreation. "In one community a woman's organization made a survey among the newcomers, tabulating their church and lodge connections. This information was relayed to the churches and lodges and served to work the newcomers into the local scheme of social, religious and recreational activities."

He said churches can do much to help meet the recreational needs by providing ping pong tables, checkers sets and other facilities in their basement recreation rooms. He told of some communities where "Georgia night" and "Texas night" meetings had been held in churches to bring groups of workers together.

Ministers Making Plans

Dr. Bell then told how the Marion Ministerial association is already investigating the possibilities for religious and social work among the newcomers. "Personally, I think our churches should burn a few more lights at night, have ping pong tables and shuffleboard courts and let the young people get in and scuff things up a little bit more. Some people who think such things aren't a logical part of the church program should get some of the moss off their backs. Some of our ministers need a stick of dynamite under them—and some of the pew members need more than that."

L. A. Axe inquired what effect the ordnance plant developments at Ravenna had on morals. Judge Cook said the morals problem was one that had received attention from the start. "We tried to reach it by providing plenty of wholesome recreational and leisure time activities and through strict law enforcement," he said. "It's a continuing problem. It's a hard one to solve, but we're getting help in unexpected quarters. Voluntary law enforcement is developing among some groups such as liquor dealers. They have signed a code. If a man causes trouble, the bartender calls the sheriff. They've agreed not to sell to minors. Wherever they can they get the automobile keys away from any person who has been drinking heavily. They do this policing job voluntarily, and we have regulations closing the bars at 11 o'clock—passed at the request of the liquor dealers."

Asks About Trailer Camps

Mr. Michel asked about the handling of trailer camps. Judge Cook answered that the 2,000 persons in Portage county living in trailers are under careful health inspections and regulations and that trailer occupants are charged a fee to help defray inspection costs. Incidentally, both Marion city council and the county health board have already passed regulations along this line and have levied inspection fees.

Dr. Nisonger asked the crowd if there was anyone present interested in day nurseries to care for children while mothers worked in defense plants. There was no response, but Supt. Holt later said several persons have asked him about the possibilities along that line in Marion. Dr. Nisonger called attention to the growing shortage of labor and predicted such nurseries will be established both here and elsewhere due to the fact more and more men are leaving industry for military service at a time when industrial activity is expanding rapidly.

Mr. Axe asked if Ravenna added only one policeman and one deputy sheriff to its previous law enforcement staffs. Judge Cook answered yes.

Local Labor Discussed

Mr. Zuck asked how far the plan to use "local labor" in the plant would be carried. Judge Cook answered that the plant at Ravenna is advertising for workers 40 and 45 years of age and that a registration is being made of men up to 60 and 65. The labor shortage, he continued, is going to be terrible. "We're preparing for mass migrations from other states such as Kentucky where there aren't many defense factories. The plans for operation of our plant were originally to employ one-third women. I understand the plan is now to use roughly two-thirds women."

Mr. Michel added, in answer to the local labor question, that the availability of labor in the Marion area was one of the points considered in preliminary surveys before the Scioto Ordnance Plant site was chosen. He said this survey covered not only the county but the surrounding territory.

Dr. Nisonger said the federal government is encouraging use of local labor to the limit, and that this would include use of women workers and older workers.

Effect on Wages

Someone asked what the probable effect the local shortage of labor was likely to have on the scale of wages in Marion. This question was referred to Mr. Zuck who predicted a tendency toward an increased wage scale. He added, however, that wage scales are fixed among the larger employers and predicted the smaller employers would "have to compete" with the large employers in the matter of wages.

Mayor Snare, called upon for remarks, said, "Most of us first approached this problem with fear and misgivings, but if we just stop to give the matter a second thought we'll realize that the people coming in are people just like ourselves, with virtually the same ideas and ideals as we have. We can and should make friends with them.

"The city will have some difficult problems, but I'm confident the city can meet them."

PROSPECT THINCLADS RETAIN COUNTY RELAYS CHAMPIONSHI

Outscore Pleasant in First Annual Prospect Invitational Relays; Two New Marks Set.

By LOREN W. TIBBALS
Marion Star Sports Editor

PROSPECT High school posted its forty-second straight track and field victory Saturday on its home track, capturing the first annual Prospect Invitational Relays by a score of 46 to 38 from Pleasant, which finished second among the six teams entered. Harpster, Wyandot county defending titlist, scored 27½ points to finish in third place. Other team scores were Morral 22½, Green Camp 16 and Waldo 8.

Coach Merton Porter's Pleasant team won the junior high school title, running up 24 points to Morral's 15½. Harpster did not compete.

Replace County Relays

The invitational replaces the annual Marion county relays, which Prospect won five straight years. Marion county officials opened the event to teams in surrounding counties when several schools were unable to create enough interest in track to warrant holding a restricted meet. Also several Marion county schools are too small to sponsor track squads.

Prospect athletes won firsts in the discus, broad jump, 48-yard shuttle relay and 440-yard relay events and placed second in the shot put, high jump, medley relay, 880-relay and mile relay. The down countions were fourth in the pole vault, the only other event.

Pleasant won first place in three events—the pole vault, 880-yard relay and mile relay. Green Camp was the only other team to win a first place, copping the discus event.

Despite strong winds and low temperatures two relay records were shattered and a third equaled.

Green Camp's shot put team combined heaves of 46 feet, 1¼ inches by Norman Weston, 37 feet, 6 inches by Jerew and 36 feet 6¼ inches by Charles Carr for a total of 119 feet, bettering by almost 13 inches a mark set by Caledonia in the 1939 relays. Weston's heave was a new individual relay mark.

Hogue Stars

Anchored by lanky Al Hogue a Pleasant quartet ran the mile relay in 3:45.5, topping the 3:45.8 mark set by Prospect in 1940. Hogue, who finished third in the 440-yard dash in the Ohio Wesleyan relays a year ago, lapped the final quarter-mile in 53 seconds.

The Cusick brothers—Jim, Dean and John—won the pole vault event for Pleasant in equaling Morral's 1939 record of 28 feet, six inches. Jim cleared 10 feet, six inches, while both John and Dean were stopped at nine feet.

New marks were established in four of the five events in the junior high division. Pleasant's high jump and 440-yard relay entries, Waldo's medley relay team and Prospect's 880-yard relay quartet each bettered old marks.

Several Marion county teams are expected to enter the Ohio Wesleyan Relays at Delaware Saturday. Last year Coach Paul Keller's Prospect cinder artists captured the Class B team title.

Summary of Saturday's events follow:

GOODRICH BOWLERS WIN 5-MAN EVENT IN LIONS TOURNEY

Omar Bakery Team Finishes Third; Marion Men High in Singles.

Goodrich Silvertown bowlers of Marion won the five-man team event and Sandusky keglers won first place in both doubles and singles events in the district Lions club tournament, which closed yesterday at the Marion Recreation center.

Goodrich's 2709 mark set a week ago weathered heavy hittings Saturday and Sunday. Lions No. 1 of Mt. Vernon rolled into fifth place in the event with 2,350. This was the only change in the entire tourney over the week-end. Omar bakery of Marion retained its third place status in the five-man event.

E. Tankersley and F. Copley of Sandusky maintained their status at the top of the doubles standings to win the event. Copley's mark of 584 was threatened only slightly over the week-end. Edward Fox and Dean Lucas of Marion won fourth and fifth place, respectively, in the singles.

Final standings and week-end results follow:

STAN MUSIAL: "ROOKIE OF YEAR"

Stan Musial, young St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, is the baseball writers candidate for No. 1 rookie-of-the-year honors in the major leagues. The critics base their selection on the phenomenal minor league record compiled by the 21-year-old Donora, Pa., boy, who began his career as a pitcher until discovery of his batting prowess, plus an arm injury, rerouted him to the outfield. He played part time in three leagues last season and outhit the batting champion in each. Here he demonstrates his batting stance and action on the base paths. Manager Billy Southworth shown with Stan in the lower picture, believes he plucked a real gem from the rookie bag.

LOUISVILLE TRIMS RED BIRDS TWICE

Brewers Continue Win Streak, Take Two from Millers.

By The Associated Press

Manager Charley Grimm predicted his Milwaukee Brewers would spring a few surprises in the American association this season and apparently he wasn't talking about July or August. The Brewers are pulling a sneak punch right now, good enough for undisputed possession of first place.

The Milwaukee club, which finished last in 1941, has ridden to four straight triumphs without a defeat on a run of pitching rivaled only by second-place Louisville.

Hy Vandenberg and Walter Lanfranconi tossed 5- and 7-hit games, respectively, in beating Minneapolis in a double header by scores of 4-2 and 2-1 yesterday.

Louisville lost its first start at Toledo, but with spectacular pitching copped the next four games. Yesterday Emerson Dickman and Lou Lucier each tossed a two-hitter as Louisville took a twin bill from Columbus, 3-0, and 4-2.

The feats of Milwaukee and Louisville in taking both games of their respective double headers yesterday was duplicated by Kansas City over St. Paul and Indianapolis over Toledo.

The Kansas City club won over the Saints by a 3-2 score in each game. Indianapolis trimmed Toledo, 5-2 and 6-5.

1943 Tourney Faces War Limitations

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 20—Top standings in the American Bowling Congress tournament were hardly threatened ove, the week-end, but the stalwart Hermann Undertakers of St. Louis, former national match game champions, will have a chance at 'em tonight.

The Hermanns with an average of 1002, will be in formidable company on the drives: Coca Colas of Terre Haute, Ind., whose average is 970, Iceland Rink of Akron, 990 and Falstaff Beers of Houston, Tex., 968.

The ABC business office scanned the week's schedule and observed, conservatively, that it might attract larger crowds of spectators. Yet Tournament spokesmen said: "We aren't losing any money, and we aren't making any. We are breaking even."

The 1943 ABC classic at Buffalo, N. Y. will be limited to 50 days and to 4800 five-man teams. Secretary E. H. Baumgarten of Milwaukee disclosed. The present meet is for 73 days, with 7542 teams entered.

It will be the first time the ABC trimmed its program. Baumgarten explained that the draft and war industry is expected to make inroads on team personnel and production of pins. Maple blocks have been requisitioned for the manufacture of shoe lasts, one engineer said.

DETROIT — Adolph Kiefer, 23-year-old Chicagoan, clipped two full seconds off his own world 100 meter backstroke record by winning match race in 1:02.8. Glenn Cadlen of New York, set new AAU indoor 100-yard back-stroke mark of 1:08.5, full second better than Eleanor Holm's old standard.

Reds, However, Ponder Record of Errors in 5 Games; Boston Teams Setting Loop Paces.

By The Associated Press

Patriot's day in Boston took on added significance today, with the Red Sox and the Braves setting a pace in the major league baseball races that could have made Paul Revere's dash through Middlesex county look like a trot.

As the Red Sox returned home from a successful invasion of Yankee stadium to play Washington in a patriots' day doubleheader, they were in supreme command of the American league and the Braves owned a three-game interest in the National league lead.

The Red Sox took over sole possession of first place yesterday by stopping the New York Yankees, 5-2. The St. Louis Browns slipped into second place, ahead of the New Yorkers by virtue of divided a doubleheader with Detroit.

The Braves and Pirates formed a cozy little twosome at the top of the National loop until both lost yesterday, allowing the Brooklyn Dodgers to muscle in on their party by pounding as did the Philadelphia Phils.

Tribe Idle

From the spectators standpoint, the first Sunday of the 1942 season was a shining success although the action was confined to seven fronts when the weather forced postponement of the Cleveland game between the Indians and the Chicago White Sox.

The Indians summoned Al Smith to pitching duty as they opened five days of activity against the up and going St. Louis Browns. The Cleveland lefthander was to have made his season debut against the Chicago White Sox yesterday.

Denny Galehouse drew the mound assignment for the Browns in the opener of a three-game local series, to be followed by a pair of games at St. Louis.

Mary Breuer of the Yanks gave up only five hits but he had a shaky inning when the Six turned three safties and a pair of walks into four runs.

Homers Win

At St. Louis, both games were won on home runs. Chet Laabs smashed a two-run homer in the opener to give the Browns a 2-1 decision over the Tigers, although the winners managed only four hits off Al Benton, one less than Elden Auker yielded in gaining the verdict.

Rookie Charley Fuchs also tossed a four-hitter at the Brownies in the nightcap, but Ned Harris came through with a ninth-inning homer that produced a 1-0 victory for Detroit, spoiling a six-hit pitching job by John Niggeling.

Buck Newsom pitched the Washington Senators to a 5-4 triumph over the Athletics in the second game of a twin bill at Philadelphia after the A's had grabbed the opener, 5-1, behind the six-hit elbowing of Phil Marchildon.

Brooks Win

At Brooklyn, the Dodgers captured the rubber game of their series with the Phils, 6-2, as Dixie Walker drove in four runs and Curt Davis racked up his second pitching victory with a five-hit job.

John Beazley's four-hitter gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 decision over the Pirates at Pittsburgh, although he had to have help from Harry Gumbert in the ninth when the Bucs scored both their runs.

At Boston, the Braves suffered their second straight setback at the hands of the New York Giants, who cashed in on a five-hitter by Cliff Melton, for a 5-2 triumph.

MARION CHURCH HAS REDEDICATION RITES

Local Church of Brethren Pastor Speaks.

Two hundred and sixty members and former members and friends of the First Church of the Brethren Sunday night for the morning service of an all-day rededication program.

The closing sermon was delivered by Rev. S. L. Cover of Grove, Ill., a former pastor, following an illustrated service of songs and stories by Rev. D. Neher of Akron.

The formal rededication service was conducted at the morning service by Rev. J. F. Wise of Defiance, president of the district ministerial board of northern Ohio.

The informal program followed a basket dish dinner at the church at noon. Among messages read was one from Rev. G. Rosenfield of Elgin, Ill., a former pastor who is now engaging in missionary work. Rev. W. E. Miller of Belleville, pastor of a nearby church, was among the guests. Mrs. E. L. Tice, one of the persons instrumental in organizing the denomination in Marion, gave a talk on the early days of the church.

One Person Injured in Traffic Accidents

Cars driven by Mrs. J. W. Reiser of 623 Wood street and Robert Bartlett of 200 East Center street figured in a rear-end collision Saturday night on West Center street. Betty Norgan of Bay City, Mich., a passenger in the Bartlett car, suffered head and leg injuries when her head hit the windshield.

Slight damage resulted when a car driven by Mrs. Fay E. Fleisher of 246 Leader street collided with an unidentified car Saturday afternoon on West Center street.

Ravenna Judge To Talk at Bucyrus Meeting

Special to The Star.

BUCYRUS, April 20 — Russell L. Miller, county agent and chief of voluntary participation in civilian defense, today announced that Wednesday at 8 p. m. civilian defense workers will meet at the high school to study problems expected to arise after the Scioto ordnance plant gets into operation near Marion.

Judge Blake C. Cook of Ravenna will be the speaker. Judge Cook, Miller said, was in charge of organizing Portage county at the time the Ravenna Ordnance plant began work.

Farewell Given For Solicitor Robinson

Lawyer Entering Army Honored by Bar Association.

Twenty-seven members of the Marion County Bar association attended a farewell party for City Solicitor Kenneth A. Robinson Saturday night in the Marion club quarters at Hotel Harding. He will leave Friday for induction in the army as a candidate for officers training.

An electric razor, a gift from the association, was presented to Mr. Robinson by Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young. Mr. Robinson gave a brief response.

The evening was spent socially and with cards. A buffet lunch was served. Arrangements for the party were in charge of Don Williamson and Charles D. Harmon.

COUGHLIN SAYS PAPER HIS RESPONSIBILITY

Asserts He Will Continue Publication Unless Restrained.

By The Associated Press

ROYAL OAK, Mich., April 20—Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Royal Oak priest, in a public statement today assumed personal responsibility for control of the magazine "Social Justice," its policies and its contents.

Attorney General Biddle announced Friday at Washington that a special district of Columbia grand jury would investigate all phases of the publication of "Social Justice," a magazine which Father Coughlin founded in 1934, but with which the priest disavowed any connection since 1940.

The attorney general's action followed an order from the postmaster-general barring the editorial from the mails for alleged seditious statements.

Father Coughlin has stated that "Social Justice" is owned by his parents, Thomas J. and Amelia Coughlin of Royal Oak. E. Perrin Schwartz is its editor.

Coughlin's statement was made at a press conference at which a page proof of the April 27 issue of "Social Justice" was distributed to newsmen. It stated the magazine's intent to continue publication and added:

"If Social Justice publishing company by lawful authority is required to suspend publication or is forbidden to distribute its publication it goes without saying that it will comply. It will observe literally and faithfully the decrees of any lawfully constituted authority.

"Until and unless the publication and distribution of "Social Justice" are forbidden by lawful authority, Social Justice Publishing company will, in accordance with its constitutional rights, continue to issue and, within the limited spheres available to it, distribute the publication."

Galion and Martel Couple Exchange Vows

Special to The Star.

GALION, April 20 — Kathryn Jean Zeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zeller of Galion, and Harold Lewis Goldsmith, son of Arthur Goldsmith of Martel were married Saturday at the rectory of St. Joseph's church. Rev. Father William Pfeifer officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Zeller. After the ceremony a dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents.

* * *

At a double ring ceremony Saturday Dorothy Louise McClenathan of Galion became the bride of Edward Paul Mason of Mansfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mason of Ft. Wayne. Rev. Andrew Young performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elza Mumaw.

They were attended by Mrs. Avery Scott of Galion and Rocko Nesta of Mansfield.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS

Delmar Dulin of 396 Oak street was host Thursday night to the Men's Bible class of Central Christian church. A letter of appreciation was read from Robert Reed, one of the church's young men in the service, for remembrances sent him by the class. L. M. Sager offered prayer. In a social hour contest honors were won by Rev. J. B. Swain, Louis Sickle and E. J. Hollandshead. Mrs. Dulin was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. E. J. Hollandshead and Mrs. Avonell Merrill.

MARION WOMAN IS NAMED BY MUSICIANS

Mrs. Fanny Benson Vice President of Tri-State Group.

Mrs. Fanny Benson of 211 Orchard street, secretary-treasurer of Marion Local No. 531, American Federation of Musicians, was elected vice president of the Tri-State Musicians association at the annual spring conference Saturday and Sunday in Louisville, Ky. Logan O. Teagle of Akron, was reelected president and Charles W. Weeks of Canton was reelected secretary - treasury Steubenville was chosen for the 1943 meeting.

The group, composed of musicians of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, met at the Brown Hotel. The speaker was Oscar F. Hild, a member of the executive board of the International federation, and manager of the Summer Opera company in Cincinnati. Talks also were given by the president and secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Teagle stressed the part music can play in the country's war program. "While the American public is doing its part in purchasing war bonds and stamps and in the production of materials for the country, we still are not awake to the importance of band music as a morale builder," he said.

KENT PUPILS WORK IN DEFENSE PLANTS

Junior and Senior Boys Double Up on War Work.

By The Associated Press

KENT, O., April 20—High school classes by day and war production by night, is the schedule for more than three score local youths.

Ten more junior and senior students from Kent State and Roosevelt High schools start on war jobs today, joining 60 of their classmates who have been working 6½ hours a night in four plants producing war materials.

School Superintendent J. W. Spangler said "most of the boys are from Roosevelt high. All have had some shop training and in some cases are given special training to fit them for the jobs they are taking in arms plants.

"Most of them work from 3:30 to 10 p. m., although a few of our seniors who are over 18 have been working a midnight to 6:30 a. m. shift. They sleep after they get out of school, then go to the job and back to school in the morning.

"Boys who undertake such work must keep up their school work, maintaining an average of C or better, and they carry a full schedule. The seniors get credit for industrial arts, however, for the work they do in arms plants."

Spangler said both AFL and CIO unions are cooperating. "They say that the job has to be done and they won't stand in the way of doing it.

try to give you back the freedom to which you are so justly and so profoundly attached," he said.

"My return to power means the rapprochment of France and Germany for which I have always stood."

Laval called the first formal meeting of his ministers today to take up the mandate handed them by Marshal Petain amid a crisis which Petain compared with that of France's defeat in June, 1940.

In a few sentences broadcast to the French people yesterday, the aged marshal stated the duties which he, as chief of state, had delegated to the new chief of the government and exhorted them to stand behind Laval's regime "with a single heart."

Petain placed French civil authority in Laval's hands and French military authority in those of Admiral Jean Darlan with these words:

"Admiral Darlan who remains my designed successor will assume the defense of our territory and our empire.

"Pierre Laval will exercise under my authority direction of internal and external policy of our country. It is with him that at the most tragic moment of our disaster I founded the new order which must assure the arising again of France . . .

"Frenchmen, your wisdom, your patience and your patriotism will aid us to triumph over our trials and miseries. Come with a single heart, line up with the government. It will give you new reasons for faith and hope."

In a statement to the press, Laval asserted that his government functioned "by virtue of the delegation of power which the marshal has confided to me" and that Petain's authority was "indispensable for me to fulfill my mission."

With Laval's announcement that Gen. Jean Francois Janneckyn, 48-year-old air commander in Algeria, had been named secretary of state for air, the only post left unfilled was that of minister of industrial production.

REVIVAL OF RIVER SHIPPING LIKELY

Streams To Carry Oil Bearing Barges To East.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 20—Revival of an old and storied term of commerce, river steamboating, appeared likely today in the unprecedented mobilization of transportation facilities to supply the industrial east with oil.

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes declared that every available carrier would be pressed into service to haul petroleum northward on the Mississippi and eastward along the Ohio river.

The petroleum coordination office and the transportation and petroleum industries are rounding out a program for complete coordination of rail, pipeline and barge facilities, to carry oil eastward.

A survey was ordered to determine how much equipment may be moved from other waterways to the Mississippi and Ohio. The coordination office also was studying the feasibility of running a pipeline from the southwest oil fields to Grand Lake, Ark., where the oil would be pumped into barges bound for Pittsburgh. This would cut approximately 300 miles from the present barge loading stations in Louisiana.

From Pittsburgh the oil fans out by rail tank car and transport trucks to eastern consuming areas.

In 1940, some 9,459,000 barrels of petrolium products were moved by barge to the 14 states on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers. This movement was increased to 10,462,000 barrels in 1941, and a haul of at least 25,000,000 barrels is expected this year. It may be considerably more.

Community Fund Annual Meeting Set Tonight

The annual meeting of the Marion Community Foundation, Inc., will be held tonight in the Marion club room at Hotel Harding. J. E. Oliphant, will preside for dinner at 6:30 and the meeting following. All contributors to the Community Foundation fund are eligible to attend and take part in the election of trustees.

Persons not wishing to attend the dinner are urged to come later for the business session which will include reports of the various agencies making up the foundation and a discussion of plans for the coming year.

Dr. Riley Transferred To Fredericktown, O.

MT GILEAD, April 20—Dr. Bruce T. Riley, now completing his second year as pastor of the Edison Methodist church, has been appointed pastor of the Fredericktown charge, succeeding Rev. W. W. Grant who has been transferred to Bethesda.

Dr. Riley preached his first sermon at the Fredericktown church on Sunday.

Lecture-Recital Junior Group in State Festival

Members of the Junior Lecture-Recital club won honor ratings in the state competitive music festival held at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music Saturday. Three received ratings of excellent, two in piano and one in voice, and one was given a mark of "very good" in clarinet. The club scrap book won first prize.

Bruce Johnson was given a rating of excellent in the concerto class, Ned Earley of Cardington the same rating in the "very difficult" piano class, Dorothy Baldauf was "excellent" in the soprano voice contest and David Earley also of Cardington, was given a "very good" rating in the medium difficult clarinet class. The club scrapbook which won first honors was compiled by Peggy Hale.

For his competitive number Bruce Johnson played the Mendelssohn "Capriccio Brilliante" concerto with the orchestration by Mrs. John Lacey. Ned Earley played the "Prelude in E Minor" by Mendelssohn, and "March Wind" by MacDowell. "The Star" by Rogers, and Schubert's "Who Is Sylvia?" were sung by Dorothy Baldauf, and David Earley played "Andantino" for clarinet by Kreisler - Langenus, and "Fleurice" by Atherton. Ned Earley played the accompaniments for his brother and Dorothy Baldauf.

The scrap book contained principally the story of the Junior club as told by clippings from The Marion Star and edited by Miss Edna Dutton, clearly and simply portrayed with pictures of the officers, club members, the club counselor, Mrs. Harry J. Mautz and the four members now in U. S. war service. The four, in uniform, are Thomas Zuck, Glen Walters, Morris Kline and Junior Denzer.

Chaperoning the group were Mrs. Mautz and Mrs. Lacey. Mrs. Mautz served as room chairman and acted as judge in the musical essay contest.

The winners will appear in a guest night program of the adult Lecture-Recital club tonight in the ballroom at Hotel Harding.

LICHLITER RESIGNS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 20—Dr. McIlyar Hamilton Lichliter announced he would resign as pastor of the First Congregational church here to become a member of the staff of the supreme council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in Boston.

The Gumps — By Gus Edson

THE MAN WITH THE TWO LEFT FEET FORGOT HIS UMBRELLA!
QUICK! LET ME SEE IT!!
NO MARKS OF IDENTIFICATION ON IT — JUST AN ORDINARY UMBRELLA — WAIT! DON'T TOUCH THE HANDLE — IT MIGHT CONTAIN FINGERPRINTS!
NO, MR. GUMP — I'M SURE IT DOESN'T — I DISTINCTLY RECALL THAT HE WAS WEARING GLOVES!
WELL, THAT'S THAT! I'M AS FAR AWAY FROM MY PRECIOUS RUBY AS EVER —

LIST PRESSED TO HOLD GAINS

Little Demand Hard To Overcome; War News Stirs Little Interest.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 20—The stock market was hard put today to retain the moderate gains recorded Saturday, which marked the first upturn since April 6.

Further progress was impeded by the old complaint of thin demand. There were a few more advances than declines but profit selling tended to impair this balance. Trends remained mixed and most changes were in fractions.

Amplification of the Tokyo reports of air raids on Japanese territory, a leading factor in Saturday's rally, failed to stir much buying interest. Brokers suggested there was tension over signs of a developing big German drive in Russia, the Laval-Vichy riddle and the desire of market followers for safe positions pending the present disclosure of the government's anti-inflation program.

On steady ground were Allied Chemical, DuPont, Union Carbide, American Telephone and American smelting. Backward at intervals were U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar, American Can and Johns-Manville.

WHEAT PRICES FALL ON CROP REPORTS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 20—Wheat prices fell a cent a bushel today to lows unequaled here since last November.

The fresh retreat, wiping out Saturday's modest rally, was blamed largely on favorable crop progress, reports of further rains in the southwest, failure of flour business to expand and indications that President Roosevelt may soon send a message to congress regarding anti-inflation legislation.

Man Fined $50 for Shop-Lifting

Bill Burke, 54, who told police he had no home, entered a plea of guilty in municipal court this morning to a charge of shop lifting. Municipal Judge Hazen fined him $50 and costs, and remanded him to county jail when he failed to make payment.

Burke was arrested about 9 p. m. Saturday by patrolmen after an employe of the S. S. Kresge store at 144 West Center street called to report to police that he had seen a man take some socks from a counter in the store.

Patrolmen Osmun and Messenger went to the scene in a police cruiser and found a man in the vicinity answering the description of the one furnished by the employe. About 13 pairs of socks were later found in his possession. Police said he later confessed.

DR. CEHRS RAISED TO MAJOR'S RANK

Marion Dentist Gets Promotion at Fort Bragg.

Dr. B. J. Cehrs, Marion dentist now in army service, has been advanced to the rank of major at Fort Bragg, N. C., according to word received by Marion friends.

Major Cehrs was a first lieutenant in the medical reserves when he left Marion on April 6, 1941. Shortly after his arrival at Fort Bragg he was advanced to a captaincy.

He is in charge of the Smoke Bomb Hill Dental clinic at Fort Bragg.

Recent guests of Major and Mrs. Cehrs were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Donithen and son Joe and Mrs. Alice Bower of Mt. Vernon avenue, who arrived at Fort Bragg on April 11, the day Major Cehrs received word of his advancement in rank.

Fainting Spells

Fainting or Syncope, may occur sufficiently often to some people to constitute a real worry. These spells usually do not mean anything serious at all, but in all circumstances they require some investigation and at least, definition. The words "fainting spell" are often used as an euphemistic expression for people who have mild attacks of epilepsy or periods of unconsciousness in the early stage of brain tumor and cerebral arteriosclerosis.

A real fainting spell is a fairly simple thing to understand. We know when a patient faints that the blood leaves the brain entirely, the blood pressure falls very low and the heart stands entirely still for a while. This may be brought on by fatigue or emotion, a too-long period without food or at the beginning of a mild illness.

Careful Examination Necessary

Vertigo, or dizziness, and fainting spells often go together. When these occur either alone or together in young people, I think it is a sufficiently serious symptom to call for a careful examination. In people over fifty, they are so common as to be of little significance, or at lease can usually be adjusted by a few days of rest in bed and a cutting-down of activity.

Women after the age of fifty who are undergoing the climacteric change are often bothered with attacks of vertigo and fainting. They must be assured that this is common and natural and will pass, and simply means that nature is telling them not to overdo and not to strain their vital reserves.

In many people over the age of fifty, both vertigo and syncope, in most cases, mean nothing more than a lack of elasticity of the arteries of the brain, which does not allow them to respond as rapidly to sudden changes of position to sudden exertion and especially to sudden emotions. Both in men and women the ear may be at fault and treatment directed at that source is indicated.

In women especially, but also in men, the use of substitution drugs which are used during the menopause are very valuable.

But the most important thing of all is rest and relaxation. This is especially important in war time. It is my experience that the young have a pretty good time during wars and rather enjoy them, but the old feel out of it and take it out in explosions of nervous energy which do nobody any good but do the individual a lot of harm. I am going to discuss this further tomorrow.

There are, of course, a few serious causes of vertigo and syncope and fainting spells and allied conditions, even in the old, but none of these is beyond the means of any average doctor to treat and I am sure that, after an examination which is neither expensive nor elaborate, you will feel very much better about a set of symptoms which may be the cause of some perturbation.

Madge Suspects Charles May Have Sinister Motives, But Waits To Get Her Father's Verdict

"SUPPOSE you go ahead," I told Jim Watson, "and tell the captain of the troopers that I want to see him before they start. Gus and I will follow you closely."

"I'll do that," he answered, and set off at a brisk pace. I turned back to give assurance to Professor Diswell.

"We won't be long," I told him.

"Take all the time you need," he said a bit testily. "Don't bother about me. I'll be all right."

His manner confirmed a suspicion already in my mind—that the old man was anxious to talk with Charles about the sheet of cuneiform characters in Jack Bickett's handwriting which I had brought to him. If they kept their voices muted, Bill and Joe would have no inkling of the meaning of their conversation. But Diswell and Charles could not—rather, I amended wryly, would not—speak freely before me.

Studies Charles

"Thank you," I said a bit dryly. "I'm glad to have that assurance."

I could not see Professor Diswell's face as he lay stretched out upon the cushions of the rear seat of the car, but the man named Charles was looking at me from behind the dark sun glasses he had put on when he came into the outside glare.

Charles was a keen individual, I decided, a person who would bear studying. As I walked gingerly with Gus across the nettle-strewn woodland, then more rapidly up the mountains road, I went over the impressions of him I had received since I first saw him.

I imagined that in his youth he had been of much the same build as Dicky. But now he was thin, gaunt almost to the point of emaciation, and his almost white unkempt hair and beard gave little indication of what their original color had been, except that I was sure it had been brown or black, not red or blond.

I always have felt that I could tell much from the eyes of a person, but those of Charles had been oddly glassy when I saw him in the room where he had been bound. That I had attributed to his being gagged, and to the blows he had received; the old professor's eyes had exhibited the same phenomenon. Then before Charles came into the sunlight he had put on the dark sun goggles which now completely hid them.

I stopped short in my tracks, almost upsetting Gus who was following close at my heels, as the sudden thought struck me that I knew nothing of this man's identity or character, nothing but his own word that he had been a friend of Jack Bickett's.

Did Professor Diswell know any more? I knew that he was a wise old savant in his own line, but was he sufficiently panoplied by worldly wisdom to be able to detect an imposter?

"What's the matter, Missis Graham?" Gus asked. "You forget something?"

"No, no, Gus," I answered quickly. "I was just planning something I wanted to do. I'll go along now."

"Okay!" The mechanical monosyllable should have steadied me, but instead it set me off into a wilderness of pros and cons which I debated as I went on up the woodland road, but at a much slower pace than when I started.

I did not believe that Jack would have confided anything about his precious, closely guarded cuneiform writing to anyone but a most intimate companion, and this man had denied being that. Either he was lying in that particular or his knowledge of the writing was a guilty one.

But in his favor was his apparent willingness to come to New York with us and see my father, or anyone else we wished. If he were guilty or masquerading as some one else he would not be willing to do that.

I soon realized that I must let my father decide this for me, and I turned and spoke to Gus.

"I must telephone as soon as I get to the cottage," I said. "Will you please run ahead and see that nobody is using the phone. If it is being used, ask the officer to hurry and get the line clear."

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, April 21

An exceptionally lively and eventful day is forecast from the predominant planetary configurations. Under the acute stimulus of the intellectual faculties as well as commercial insight and ingenuity all affairs should be due to move along at a very high tempo and with gratifying success. All pertaining to travel, change, communications, writing, publicity, advertising and promotional enterprises. The interest and cooperation of those in influential positions, as well as in public office, may be counted upon.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of liveliness, progress and productivity with things moving under unusual stimuli of the mind and nerve forces, inciting to travel, change, new ventures, especially where writing, publicity and promotional enterprise figure.

A child born on this day should be versatile, adaptable and resourceful with excellent mentality as well as commercial acumen. It could make a brilliant success in literary, professional, legal or commercial life.

Flash Gordon

SWIFTLY, FLASH OVER POWERS THE TRAITOR, PIGOR, WHO HAS NEARLY KILLED THEM ALL---
FLASH GOES DOWN INTO THE ROCKET HULL TO CLEAR IT OF SMOKE
I'LL WORK THE VENTILATOR BY HAND--
FLASH'S TERRIFIC LUNG POWER ENABLES HIM TO HOLD HIS BREATH TILL HE'S CLEARED AWAY THE GAS---

Tim Tyler

By Lyman Y

I'M BEGINNING TO SEE THROUGH DR. M'S MAD SCHEME! HE STOLE THE NAMES OF THOSE SEVEN LEADING ARMAMENT PRODUCTION HEADS PLANNING TO WIPE THEM OUT, IN A STRANGE WAY, ONE BY ONE—
BUT WHY, SIR?
HE'S TRYING TO CREATE CONFUSION! IF THOSE SEVEN LEADERS WHO GUIDE THE VAST OUTPUT OF OUR WAR SUPPLIES WERE SUDDENLY ELIMINATED, OUR ENTIRE WAR EFFORT AGAINST AGGRESSION MIGHT BOG DOWN—
WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO, LIEUT FLEET?
WARN THOSE SIX REMAINING MEN OF THEIR DANGER, WHILE THEY STILL HAVE A CHANCE—COME ON, WE'LL—GOOD HEAVENS—

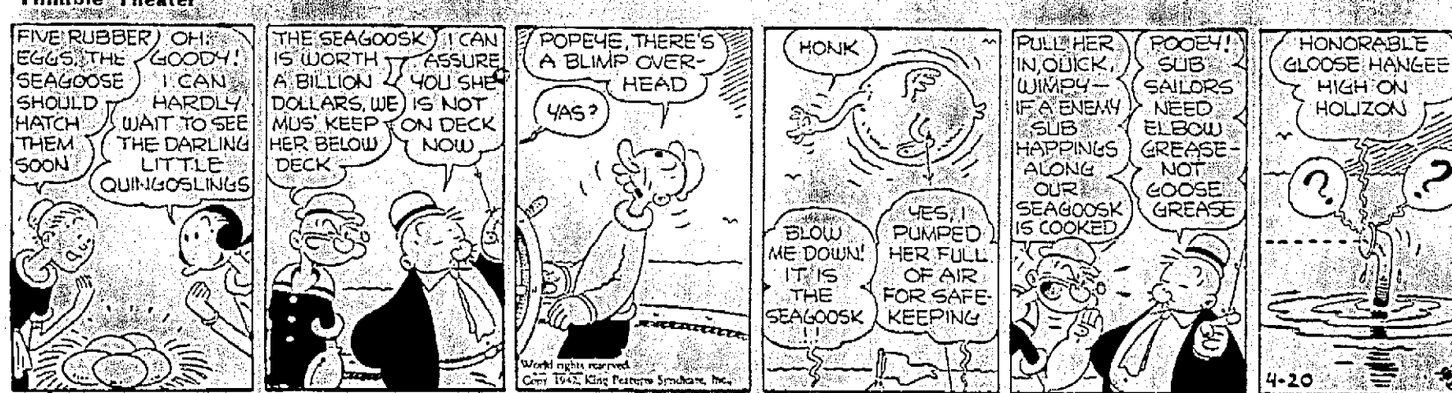
Thimble Theater



FIVE RUBBER EGGS, THE SEAGOOSE SHOULD HATCH THEM SOON
OH, GOODY! I CAN HARDLY WAIT TO SEE THE DARLING LITTLE QUINGOSLINGS
THE SEAGOOSK IS WORTH A BILLION DOLLARS, WE MUS' KEEP HER BELOW DECK
I CAN ASSURE YOU SHE IS NOT ON DECK NOW
POPEYE, THERE'S A BLIMP OVERHEAD
YAS?
HONK
BLOW ME DOWN! IT IS THE SEAGOOSK
YES, I PUMPED HER FULL OF AIR FOR SAFE-KEEPING
PULL HER IN, QUICK, WIMPY—IF A ENEMY SUB HAPPINGS ALONG OUR SEAGOOSK IS COOKED
POOEY! SUB SAILORS NEED ELBOW GREASE—NOT GOOSE GREASE

TILLIE, I DON'T WANT BETTY TO KNOW WHERE I'M GOING AND I CAN'T LIE TO HER
TELL HER YOUR UNCLE SENT FOR YOU. SHE NEEDN'T KNOW YOU MEAN UNCLE SAM
OH, BILL, DO LET ME COOK YOU A DINNER TONIGHT
NO, MY UNCLE SENT FOR ME I'VE GOT TO RUN
MAYBE HE WON'T KEEP YOU LONG
WELL, HE'S GOING TO TAKE ME TO A FIGHT, BUT I'LL GIVE YOU A RING, AS SOON AS THE FIGHT'S OVER
I'LL WAIT RIGHT BY THE 'PHO TILL YOU RING
OKAY S'LONG

Toots and Casper

By Jimmy Mu

MOTHER AND DAD WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW, SO I'LL LIVE WITH THEM WHILE THEY'RE IN TOWN!
WHEN THEY LEAVE, COME BACK WITH US, MARGY.
I'LL SURE MISS YOU AND TOOTS, CASPER! YOU ALWAYS LET ME DO AS I PLEASE
MOTHER AND DAD ALWAYS CALL FOR ME AT PARTIES—I CAN'T DO ANY PETTING WITH A CHAPERONE ALWAYS AROUND. YES, PARENTS ARE A PROBLEM!

Annie Rooney

By Brandon W

CHEER UP, ANNIE—JUST BECAUSE WE'RE QUARANTINED IN THE HOSPITAL IS NO REASON TO FEEL BLUE—WE'RE NOT SICK
OH, I JUST KINDA GET THE WIM-WAMS THINKIN' 'BOUT THE TWO MEN WHO WERE HERE YESTERDAY—ACTIN' LIKE THEY WAS AWFUL MAD AT MR. OLIVER
OH—THAT'S NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT
BUT THEY SAID 'CAUSE MR. OLIVER HELPED THAT LITTLE SICK GIRL WE FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN THE ROAD, THEY WERE GONNA TELL THE POLICE MR. OLIVER WAS PRACTICING MEDICINE WITHOUT A LICENSE
DARRELL McCLURE
AN' THEY SAID THAT WAS BREAKIN' THE LAW—AN' MR. OLIVER WOULD BE PUT IN JAIL, 'CAUSE IT'S BREAKIN' THE LAW TO HELP SICK FOLKS—IF YOU'RE NOT A DOCTO

Bringing Up Father

By George McMa

I'M GOING OUT AND BRING HOME ONE OF OUR FINE SOLDIER BOYS TO DINE WITH US—IT'S A LITTLE SERVICE WE OWE THE MEN IN UNIFORM—
IF I PUT ON A UNIFORM KIN I HAVE SOME CORNED BEEF AN' CABBAGE?
THAT'S A SOLDIER NOW-
THAT'S RIGHT-LADY—I'VE BEEN A SOLDIER FOR TEN YEARS AN' ONLY BEEN HOME ONCE IN THAT TIME-
GRACIOUS! YOU MUST GET VERY HOME-SICK-
ONLY WHEN I'M HOME!
